India Tour Hailed

New Era Seen In Relations With West

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet press Thursday jubilantly hailed the Asian tour of Communist party boss N. S. Khrushchev and Premier Nikolai Bulganin as a great diplomatic success for the U.S.S.R.

The newspapers castigated Britain and the United States in terms as tough as any seen here in Stalin's day, and said the Soviet leaders' trip to India and Burma filled the Western powers with "anger and confusion."

The consensus of the Western diplomatic corps in Moscow is that the praise heaped on Bulganin and Khrushchev for their tour reflects a growing feeling of confidence among Soviet leaders that will lead to a new era in world relations.

These observers express this view: The Soviet leaders feel the Geneva conferences removed the threat of an atomic war. On top of this, relatively good harvests, a continuing high-speed tempo of industrial development and evidences that the present leaders have surmounted the dangers besetting them at the time of Stalin's death appear to have produced a jubilant mood. The Westerners predicted the Soviet leaders would be progressively harder to deal with on any but their own terms.

There was no question but that Moscow views the Bulganin-Khrushchev tour as one of its greatest postwar successes—part of a process which might bring Burma and India into a bloc now stretching from Prague to Peiping.

"The unconquerable desire of the oppressed Eastern peoples for independence and freedom," said the Communist party paper Pravda, "has become the watchword of our time. The colonial system is falling to pieces despite desperate attempts of the colonialists to preserve their domination. The peoples of Asia resolutely are beginning to build their life as they see fit. It is precisely for this reason the colonialists are annoyed by the fact that the most friendly relations are developing between the Soviet Union and the peoples of India, Burma and other countries, not to mention that great friend and brother of the Soviet people, the People's Republic of China."

Terrence Patrick Dugan Comes 'Home' To Lincoln

By ELLIS RALL
Star Staff Writer

Terrence Patrick Dugan.

'Tis a good Irish name. And Terrence is Irish and as Irish as one can be—brogue and all. But that is not what is unusual about him.

Terry, as he is known, is just 3½ years old. Last week he lived at the St. Patrick's Home in Dublin, Ireland. This week he lives at 3145 So. 46th, in Lincoln.

Last week he was an orphan. This week he has loving parents.

It has been a big week for him—probably more than his young mind can comprehend, but nevertheless Terry knows he has a father and mother now.

At LAFB

They are Lt. and Mrs. Earl M. Dugan of 3145 So. 46th. Lt. Dugan, from St. Louis, is stationed at the Lincoln Air Force Base.

The story of Terry began 3½ years ago when Dugan was stationed in England. He and his wife decided to adopt a boy.

Since both of their grand parents came from Ireland, that was the logical place for them to look.

After a year of searching they saw Terry. His blonde hair, bright blue eyes and rosy, chubby cheeks won them over.

Red Tape

Then the long, involved process of red tape began. An investigation of the prospective parents had to be completed. Passports, visas and other papers needed signing.

The two years melted away. Lt. Dugan was rotated to the States and the LAFB without Terry. That was last May.

The Dugans, when informed Terry was theirs, had to arrange to get him to the States. This was done through the Air Force. Terry was now a dependent.

Terry's long trip began. First to London, then Scotland and then across the Atlantic in a Military Air Transport Service plane. His only companion was an Air Force master sergeant.

Met In New Jersey

Lt. Dugan met his son at McGuire Air Force Base in New Jersey and brought him home. That was Thursday afternoon.

Dugan had not seen Terry since September of last year. Although Terry did not know his parents at first, he sure does now.

Little Terrence was tired from the long trip, but the thrill of riding in the big airplanes, on buses and in motor cars, as he calls them, kept him going.

Finally at the dinner table Thursday night, the trip began to catch up with him. His head began nodding. Terry's last few days were big days—ones that he should remember for years to come.

But that was Thursday. Today is Friday and he has his shiny new yellow "motor car" to play with.

Ex-Capone Aid Slain In Chicago

CHICAGO (INS) — Alex Louis Greenberg, millionaire hotel and brewery owner and former financial adviser to Capone gangsters, was shot down in gangland style on Chicago's South Side Thursday night before the horrified eyes of his wife.

The 69-year-old Greenberg was shot down on a street corner (Union Ave. and 26th St.) shortly after he and his wife, Pearl, had left a restaurant, the Glass Dome Hickory Pit.

Greenberg was rushed to Louise Burg Hospital where physicians pronounced him dead from bullet wounds in the head and chest.

Mrs. Greenberg was near collapse as she tried to tell police of the shooting.

No Warning

She managed to tell police that two men walked up to her husband who was a step or two in the lead and opened fire without warning.

Police said they learned that the gunmen fled in two cars that rolled slowly down the street as the snooting occurred.

Mrs. Greenberg was questioned by Chief of Detectives Edward O'Malley and other top officers at the Deering Street Police Station. She was taken to the station from the hospital to which she accompanied her dying husband.

Police said they were convinced that gang vengeance was the motive for the assassination.

Chessman Makes Last Bid Against Execution

Heavily-Shackled Condemned Man Leaves Bleak San Quentin Walls

SAN FRANCISCO (INS) — Convict-author Caryl Chessman, who has successfully by-passed the San Quentin death chamber six times, appeared in San Francisco Federal District Court Thursday to make his seventh and final bid.

The heavily-shackled 34-year-old condemned man stood before Federal Judge Louis E. Goodman who set Jan. 9 as the date of the hearing on Chessman's claims that the transcript of the Los Angeles trial which convicted him was faulty. The hearing was ordered by the U.S. Supreme Court.

It was the second time in seven and a half years that Chessman, author of two best selling books on his experiences as a condemned convict and his previous career as Los Angeles' "Red Light Bandit" had been out of the prison death row.

Judge Goodman, in setting the hearing date, reserved action for a time on Chessman's motion that he be taken from death row and lodged in jail in San Francisco.

Later the court ruled that Chessman should be returned to San Quentin, but directed prison officials to allow the prisoner to consult his counsel at any time necessary between the hours of 9 a.m. and 6 p.m. Manacled hand and foot, he was transferred back to the prison in a state sedan.

Chessman with the I.Q. of a genius and a long record of kidnaping, rape, banditry and theft, has been in death row longer than any other man in California penal history.

Should he win in the hearing, he will be a free man, subject of course, to re-arrest by Los Angeles authorities. In that event he would face another trial but under California's now amended criminal code he could not be re-sentenced to death.

Chessman alleges that the transcript of his 1948 trial for kidnap and rape was altered by the trial judge, the district attorney and the substitute court reporter, thus depriving him of his constitutional rights and due process of law on appeal.

He has been turned down by court after court, but the U.S. Supreme Court ordered another hearing as he stood in the shadow of the gas chamber for the sixth time earlier this year.

Outside The Walls

U. S. marshals remove chains and handcuffs before they enter court with Caryl Chessman in San Francisco. The convict author has been fighting to escape the gas chamber since 1948. Chessman is seeking to upset his conviction and death sentence for kidnap and rape. While in death row at nearby San Quentin Prison, Chessman wrote two books, both of which were best sellers. This was his first look outside the bleak prison since 1952. (AP Wirephoto)

Temps Dip Below Zero

Some Nebraska temperatures fell underneath the zero mark early Friday morning and nippy weather was forecast for the state.

Grand Island, where it was clear overhead, reported 5 below after midnight. At the same time, North Platte had a -3 and Chadron had -1.

Other early morning marks were in the low register, with Sidney taking "high" place with its 17.

Downtown Lincoln and the Lincoln Airport reported 9 above early Friday, but in mid-evening Thursday, the mercury had gone down to 8.

Light snow fell in Lincoln and Omaha Thursday night and some other points were partly cloudy. North Platte had fog.

Friday's high's were to be in the 20s in the east and the 30s in the extreme west.

Cold temperatures in the eastern part of the state Thursday were caused by two high pressure areas which divided the state.

Along the dividing line, a series of minor low pressure waves set off snow flurries at several stations including Norfolk, Grand Island, Omaha and Lincoln.

Thursday's high temperatures ranged from 34 at Sidney to 6 at Norfolk. Norfolk's low for the day was 1 degree above zero, the lowest reading reported.

Lincoln's high Thursday was 18, with a low of 8.

Labor Prods Politics

AFL-CIO Pledges Organizing Drive

NEW YORK (AP) — The AFL-CIO moved Thursday to wage the "greatest organizing campaign in the nation's history" and to expand its role in politics.

Both actions were approved among a series of resolutions adopted at the founding convention of the newly-merged 16 million member labor force.

Walter Reuther, former CIO president, said former CIO unions in the new organization had pledged four million dollars toward the organizing campaign.

Terming the forthcoming drive the greatest ever, he called on the AFL wing of the new federation to contribute proportionately.

No Sides

The political action resolution took no sides between parties.

It said there was a need for an "expanding non-partisan program of political education designed to protect and secure the legitimate economic and political aspirations of America's working men and women."

Other resolutions:

Farmer-labor unity—

"The AFL-CIO and its affiliated unions shall dedicate themselves to building an unshakeable bond of mutual understanding and co-operative action between farmers and workers, thereby to advance their common welfare and the well being of the entire nation."

Surplus food—

"This convention . . . goes on record as urging the Congress of the United States to extend and enlarge the surplus commodities distribution program to include all people in needs regardless of the cause of that need."

Flood insurance—

The convention urged creation of a system of federal insurance.

Military manpower —

The convention opposed any program of universal military training. It approved continuation of selective service and endorsed a reserve training program.

Mobilization —

"We vigorously oppose the use of martial law as a response to atomic attack. We do not believe that military authorities should be made responsible for deciding questions which are essentially civilian in character."

Atomic energy—

The AFL-CIO proposed development of peaceful uses of atomic energy as rapidly as possible.

Mattress Burns

A mattress was burned in a fire early Friday morning in a room at the Nebraskan Hotel at 230 No. 11th.

Hotel personnel said the occupant of the room, Alfred Clark, reported the blaze, which caused no damage except to the mattress and bedding. No one was injured, they reported.

Dealers Made Millions In Days Of Lush Sales

. . . Competition Pace Too Great For Some

WASHINGTON (AP) — Counsel for General Motors Corp. Thursday demanded a chance to "rebut the chairman" of a Senate Anti-monopoly subcommittee now investigating its operations.

Henry M. Hogan, GM general counsel, contended Chairman O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) has made statements that amounted to testimony in public hearings on GM's relations with some of its retail dealers. Hogan told O'Mahoney he would oppose any move to end the hearings before he has had a chance to "rebut the chairman."

O'Mahoney promised that Hogan would get the chance.

The hearings had been expected to wind up Friday, but indications Thursday night were that they would run through Saturday at least.

Dealers Answered

Friday's session was taken up largely by a detailed rebuttal of dealers' complaints by William F. Hufstader, GM vice president in charge of distribution.

Half a dozen or more dealers have told the subcommittee they were subjected by GM to coercion and pressure for high sales volume. Some said their dealership agreements were canceled.

Hufstader said the dealers failed to keep up when competition became brisk following the easy selling postwar days, a lush period during which he said "anything with four wheels could be sold."

Dealers' profits in the millions were mentioned.

Declaring GM had been "fair and patient" with all of its 17,000 retail dealers, Hufstader said:

"There is not any policy in General Motors where a dealer is threatened."

O'Mahoney Makes Charge

O'Mahoney has said repeatedly during the hearings he believes the evidence is clear that GM and other manufacturers are turning out cars in such volume that their dealers must resort to low down payments and uneconomic long-term installments in order to sell them.

Among other things the subcommittee is exploring charges by some dealers that overproduction has resulted in the "bootlegging" of cars, for sale in the used car market in competition with licensed new car dealers.

Harlow H. Curtice, GM president, testified that bootleggers can get their supplies only by buying new cars from franchised dealers at prices about $50 above wholesale. He said they are able to do this because of a "selfish desire of a small percentage of our dealers to make a fast dollar."

Curtice Denies

Under O'Mahoney's questioning, Curtice said GM never has canceled a dealer's license for selling cars into bootleg channels.

Rather, he said, when a dealer is detected doing this, his monthly allotment of cars "would be reduced by a corresponding amount, plus a heart to heart talk."

O'Mahoney told Curtice he will be asked in a closed door session soon to tick off the names of dealers "whose allotments were reduced because they sell cars that get into the bootleg market."

Hogan protested that these questions involved legal matters and should have been directed to a lawyer instead of to Curtice, a nonlawyer.

"I'm asking the president of General Motors," O'Mahoney retorted "and he doesn't need any prompting."

"I'm asking 'Red' himself," he added, referring to Curtice by a nickname.

Curtice joined in the laughter and said "and Red will answer."

Hufstader said M. H. Yager, Albany, N.Y. Pontiac dealer who has described General Motors as "a bully of the greatest magnitude," made more than a million dollars in less than 15 years, on an original investment of $10,000, but now has an "inadequate performance" on Pontiac sales. There was no immediate comment from Yager, who has returned to Albany.

Hufstader said A. M. Work of Portland, Ore., put $90,000 into two Pontiac dealerships and a few years later drew out more than two million dollars in profits, salaries and bonuses.

He said "poor performance" by F. W. Fraser, Work's sales manager at the Billingsly Motor Co. of Portland, had caused termination of that dealership. Fraser has testified that GM officials "badgered" Work into investing in Pontiac dealerships of questionable value.

An Answer From GM

William F. Hufstader (right) General Motors vice president in charge of distribution, confers with Henry M. Hogan, GM general counsel, as he testifies before Senate antitrust investigators in Washington. Hufstader told the senators that one dealer who complained to them about GM business practices made a million dollars in less than 15 years but now has an "inadequate performance" on car sales. Dr. Wolford To Replace Sandritter At Hastings

. . . Salary Of Position Upped $4,000

Dr. Jack Arlington Wolford, 38, Thursday was announced by the Board of Control as the new superintendent at Hastings State Hospital at a salary of $16,600 a year. He will take over the position on Feb. 15.

He fills the vacancy left by the resignation of Dr. G. Lee Sandritter, who went to Washington state. Dr. Richard W. Gray of Lincoln State Hospital is acting superintendent.

Dr. Gray, former assistant superintendent of the Lincoln State Hospital, is expected to return to his Lincoln duties when Dr. Wolford arrives.

At present Dr. Wolford is senior clinical director at Warren State Hospital in Warren, Pa. He is married and has two children of grade school age.

Dr. Wolford, who will receive some $4,000 a year more than was paid Dr. Sandritter, will live in the city of Hastings rather than at the institution. Dr. Sandritter paid $75 a month rent for his residence, which was on state property, but received full maintenance.

Salary of Dr. Sandritter was $10,000 a year. In addition he received $2,000 a year as director of the Central Nebraska Mental Health Clinic in Hastings.

Dr. Sandritter before leaving his post told a Legislative Council study committee that the present Board of Control is the worst the state has had since 1936 and said he resigned because he no longer wished to be associated with the board and its policies.

He was a frequent critic of the board and one of the charges he often made was that it kept salaries too low to permit hiring of competent personnel.

The board announced an upward revision of salaries at mental hospital Sept. 1. Top was for clinical directors which was increased from $12,000 to $15,000 a year to from $13,000 to $17,000. The increases also covered physicians, phychologists and psychiatrists at the three state hospitals.

Dr. Wolford, 38, was certified in psychiatry by the American Board of Neurology and Psychiatry in 1953. He is a member of the American Psychiatric Association and the American Medical Association.

He received his M.D. from the University of Pennsylvania in 1943 and interned at the Alleghany General Hospital in Pittsburgh in 1944.

In 1945 and 1946 he served as psychiatric resident at the Warren State Hospital, then went into military service. He was a captain in the Army Medical Corps and served at Mason General and Valley Forge Hospital.

In 1946 Dr. Wolford began postgraduate work at the University of Pennsylvania and in the College of Physicians and Surgeons at Columbia University.

He spent a short time on the staff of the Western Psychiatric Institute of the University of Pittsburgh, then was appointed senior clinical director of Warren State Hospital in 1951.

Strunk Resolution Set To Blast Writer's Attack On Reclamation

McCOOK, Neb. (AP) — Harry B. Strunk, McCook, president of the Republican Valley Conservation Assn., said Thursday he would be unable to attend the joint meeting of the Nebraska Irrigation Assn. and the Nebraska Reclamation Assn. to present a resolution blasting a writer's attack on reclamation.

Strunk

However, he said, the resolution will be presented.

Strunk, publisher of the McCook Gazette, had planned to offer personally a resolution asking Secretary of the Interior McKay to answer the article recently written by Raymond Moley, which was entitled "All Reclamation Isn't Successful."

He said he would be unable to attend because of a recent illness which combined with the weather "makes me hesitate to make the trip" to Scottsbluff, where the associations are in session.

"I am more than fairly confident that this resolution will be passed with plenty of majority sentiment, otherwise I would certainly be present at the meeting at all cost," Strunk said. "I have strong faith that the judgment of the tiller of the soil, the land owner or land tenant, and the taxpayer will not permit an eastern syndicate and over graduated writer to mis-state the fact applying to this country's natural resources."

According to the resolution, the article was "published throughout the nation Nov. 23, 1955, purporting to show discrepancies and untruths which not only place these state and federal departments of government in an embarassing and discreditable position, but cause delay in the work of flood control, irrigation, conservation and recreation . . . ."

(For a story on the value of reclamation projects to the state, as presented in a report to the Scottsbluff meeting, see Page 6.)

—Humphrey Sees Balanced Budget—

Tax Cut May Be Possible

...Ike Talks With Top Advisers

THURMONT, Md. (AP)—President Eisenhower held three sessions with his top advisers at fog-covered Camp David Thursday in an effort to trim the budget and perhaps offer a 1956 election year tax cut.

Two meetings of the National Security Council were preceded by an hour-long separate conference with Secretary of Defense Wilson, Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey, Budget Director Rowland Hughes and Secretary of State Dulles.

Sec. Humphrey

Humphrey reiterated his predictions that the budget will be brought into balance by next July 1 but said Eisenhower himself will say whether taxes can be cut in his State of the Union message to Congress in January.

Asked About Defense

Reporters asked Humphrey whether his forecast of a balanced budget by the end of this fiscal year took into account "indications of increased military expenditures."

"I don't give a damn what the indications are," he said, smiling. "I think we are going to balance the budget."

"Does that mean a tax cut?" a reporter asked.

"I think I have gone a long ways out on the limb already, don't you?" he replied.

"What can you say about taxes now?" newsmen pressed.

"Nothing right now. I imagine the President will be saying something about it in his State of the Union message."

The Treasury secretary was asked again here if his balanced budget forecast took into account prospects of the Defense Department spending 34 billion dollars this fiscal year.

"Well, it's quite important, this defense," Humphrey replied. "We can't let anything happen to it."

Humphrey talked with reporters just before the President drove up to the conference site, situated in the heavily guarded presidential retreat in the Catoctin Mountains about six miles from this little Maryland town. Eisenhower made the 22-mile drive from his farmhouse at Gettysburg, Pa.

After the budget conference at the main lodge, the President walked more than 200 yards to rustic Laurel Lodge for a two-hour session of the NSC. The Council made a further review of defense spending in preparation for the over-all budget for the 1957 fiscal year.

After a luncheon adjournment, the Council went back into another session.

TB Hospital Quarters Low Bid Is $83,400

Apparent low bidder for construction of nurses' quarters at the Hospital for Tuberculosis at Kearney was Chris Lien Co., the Board of Control announced Thursday. The firm's bid for the general contract was $83,400.

Next low bid was $83,870 submitted by Almquist Brothers Co. Highest of the nine bids submitted was $101,126.

Anderson Bros. Plumbing and Heating submitted the apparent low of two bids on plumbing and heating at $17,722. Milam Electric Co. was apparently lowest of the six firms bidding on electrical work, at $4,685. The other bids ranged upward to a top of $8,400.

The structure will be two stories, brick masonry, and approximately 34 by 112 feet in dimension.

It will provide 17 single rooms, each with bath, and one unit of two rooms sharing a bath. There will be a small basement for laundry and storage.

The building will be heated from a central steam plant, and will be connected with the hospital by a tunnel.

The present 70-year-old home for nurses at the institution is a frame residence purchased by the state in 1916.

Arraignment Of Graham Set Today

DENVER (INS) — The twice-delayed arraignment of accused saboteur John Gilbert Graham, charged with the time bomb murder for insurance plot against his mother, will get underway Friday morning in Denver District Court.

But there was a possibility that a court-appointed team of three defense attorneys may succeed in forcing another delay in District Attorney Bert Keating's avowed plans of speedily sending the 23-year-old youth to the Colorado lethal gas chamber at Canon City for the murder of Daisie E. King.

Seems Vehicles Cause This Boy Lots Of Trouble

OMAHA (AP)—Union Pacific Railroad detectives Thursday afternoon arrested Larry Lee Henggeler, 17, and Richard Hiatt, 18, and took them to the South Omaha Police Station where Larry told a story of stealing a motorized track car to hunt rabbits.

While they rode down the tracks south of the city a train approached. They stopped the car, tried to get it off the tracks but failed and the train knocked the car a half block. The railroad agents said young Hiatt denied Henggeler's story.

When he got through with his story, Henggeler was told by police detectives to wait in their office while they discussed the matter. Henggeler didn't wait. He walked out and drove off in his car.

There followed, police said, a chase that saw speeds of 90 miles an hour by a police cruiser crew. But Larry, after being cornered and halted said, "No, my car doesn't go that fast. I was doing 70."

Red Cross Agrees To Meet Tenneson

WASHINGTON (AP)—A spokesman for the American National Red Cross said Thursday night that the organization had agreed to send a representative to meet Richard Tenneson, turncoat GI, on Dec. 13 at the contact point between Hong Kong and China.

This is the most definite word so far on the possible release of the Minnesota soldier who refused repatriation after the Korean War. The Chinese Reds recently granted him permission to leave.

Medal Of Honor Holder Convicted In Shooting Case

BALTIMORE (AP) — Junior J. Spurrier, Medal of Honor winner for exploits which earned him the nickname "One Man Army," was sentenced Thursday to six months in jail and fined $80.

The 32-year-old World War II hero was convicted on four charges stemming from the invasion of a former girl friend's home and firing a pistol shot into the floor.

Spurrier was arrested for questioning after a 32-year-old waitress told police he entered her East Baltimore home.

Mrs. Mary Murphy, the waitress, told police she escaped from Spurrier unharmed early Thursday.

She told police Junior had been drinking when he came to the house last night.

Mrs. Josephine Neece, who shares the home, said she opened the door and when she refused to get out of the way, Spurrier "shoved a big gray-colored automatic pistol at me and fired a shot into the baseboard by my right foot."

TONGAY TRIES TO KILL SELF

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Russell Tongay, ex-swimming instructor under sentence in Florida for the manslaughter death of his 5-year-old daughter, attempted suicide Thursday in the Los Angeles County jail.

The jailer said he found Tongay in his cell with both wrists slashed, apparently from a double-edged razor blade.

Deputy Will Roe, the jailer, said it was "an insincere attempt at suicide," although Tongay, 39, left a note including a Bible quotation. The physician said the cuts were superficial.

Tongay is awaiting return to Florida to finish serving a 10-year sentence for the death of his diving daughter.

Adlai Hits At 'Ugly' Politics

Stevenson Cites 'Group Hatred'

NEW YORK (AP) — Adlai Stevenson accused some of President Eisenhower's lieutenants Thursday of "playing ugly politics of group conflict and hatred."

Those to whom he alluded included two Cabinet members—Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson and Interior Secretary Douglas McKay.

"Is this, indeed, an attempt to stir up class conflict?" the announced candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination asked the AFL-CIO convention.

"No election, no office is worth such a price."

Hearty Cheers

Stevenson told heartily cheering delegates and visitors:

"Today McCarthyism is out of style. But I wonder if a similar hate campaign is in the making around distorted images of 'goons' and 'power-hungry labor bosses,' two ugly phrases we hear almost daily."

Stevenson, speaking in his usual polished manner with occasional quips that drew laughter, won standing ovations at the beginning and end of his speech.

Applauded 27 Times

He was applauded 27 times, somewhat more frequently than Gov. Averell Harriman of New York, a potential rival for the nomination, who addressed the convention Tuesday.

Another ovation was given Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, widow of the New Deal President.

The delegates also heard J. Addington Wagner, American Legion national commander, call for "greater frankness" by the Eisenhower administration "instead of attempting to sweeten the bitter failure that was Geneva."

Stevenson, an advocate of moderation, said he had not intended anything even savoring of a political speech, but that he was going to speak bluntly against "what appears to be a design" of "ugly politics."

Farmer, City Worker

"It started," he said, "with the secretary of agriculture's attempt to blame the farmer's current depression on the city worker's wage increase.

"And now the chairman of the Republican Senatorial Committee (Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona) has charged labor leaders with organizing 'a conspiracy of national proportions' to take over the federal government.

"A member of the Cabinet (McKay) has said he doesn't happen to go along with some of the 'goons' who are 'running things.'

The four-day convention adjourned at 5:17 p.m. (EST) with the singing by the delegates of "God Bless America."

Gaitskell Says He Won't Quit For Morrison

LONDON (AP) — Hugh Gaitskell Thursday night blocked a back scenes maneuver to stop him from running for the Labor party leadership.

A group of influential senior party members sought to get him and leftist Aneurin Bevan to step aside and turn the party leadership over to Herbert Morrison, deputy party leader under Clement Attlee. Attlee resigned the leadership Wednesday and quickly was elevated to the House of Lords.

Bevan readily agreed to support Morrison—if Gaitskell would.

But Gaitskell, former chancellor of the exchequer and front-runner in the race to lead the Labor party, refused.

"The position is this," he told reporters. "A number of my colleagues have been good enough to nominate me. They have made it plain that they would greatly regret it if I were to withdraw."

Broady Convicted As N.Y. Wire Tap Center Chief

. . . 27-Year Sentence Possible

NEW YORK (AP) — John (Steve) Broady's colorful career as a wire tap expert was climaxed Thursday night by his conviction on 16 counts of illegal telephone eavesdropping.

An all-male jury in General Sessions Court specifically convicted the 52-year-old lawyer and private detective of masterminding a big wire tap center on E. 55th St. It was raided last Feb. 11.

Broady was acquitted of a 17th count in the indictment and three additional counts were thrown out during the trial.

Appeal

Broady faces possible maximum sentences totaling 27 years. One of his lawyers said an appeal is planned.

Sentence was set for Jan. 13. Broady's bail was boosted from $2,500 to $15,000.

The East Side wire tap hub had at its mercy 48,000 to 60,000 telephones between 36th St. and 96th St. Included were United Nations headquarters, and some of the smartest and wealthiest business houses in the world. Among those whose wires were tapped were television actress Kyle MacDonnell, strip teaser Ann Corio and Pepsi-Cola chairman Alfred M. Steele, husband of movie star Joan Crawford.

Not Illegal

Broady claimed he had never done any illegal telephone eavesdropping.

Wire-tapping is legal in New York by court order, or when a person asks to have his own wire tapped.

Nevertheless, the state called Broady's methods of obtaining information "cruel . . . filthy . . . unsidious . . . vicious."

In his defense, testimony was offered that Broady had been framed by business rivals jealous of his galaxy of wealthy clients.

Moscow Changes Its Tune

This is the season of the year in Nebraska when the thoughts of most Nebraskans are far removed from developments abroad. In scores of towns and cities, the lights burn brightly and the crowds on the street confirm that Nebraskans are getting ready once again to observe the holidays in traditional style.

Nevertheless it is apparent that the spirit of Geneva—if there was any genuine foundation for the expressed belief that Communist Russia had undergone a change and was ready to contribute to world peace—is a thing of the past. A cold war is on in full force. It places the American people at a very considerable disadvantage, while Bulganin and Khrushchev continue a tour of the Far East. In Rangoon, Khrushchev said this: "Some Europeans are accustomed to living off Asia. They are trembling because the population of Asia is against them . . . "

There is no easy defense to be made for the colonial policy or for imperialism. It is the greatest obstacle which the western powers face in the struggle for Asia. With millions of Asiatics resolutely on the march, Russia finds itself in the position to exploit poverty of an old continent to the fullest.

The Great Quiet Movement

There is nothing particularly spectacular about water wells. They are just holes in the ground scattered here and there, mainly out of the public eye. But in Nebraska they are spelling out a great development that is rapidly strengthening and stabilizing the state's economy.

Observations and figures given out by state-federal agriculture statistician, A. E. Anderson, tell an impressive story.

He noted that Nebraska this past summer relied on wells to irrigate 760,000 acres of crop land. And he added that of one and a third million acres, only 46 per cent are now receiving water from the state's extensive reservoir system. And by the end of this year an additional number of wells will be brought into production to increase Nebraska's total of irrigated acres to one and a half million.

His report takes on more focus when it is recalled that Nebraska now has more than twice the number of acres under well irrigation than it had in 1948. Then the figure stood at 383,000 acres. Presently it is 760,000.

Combine present-day crop-growing methods with managed water and it spells out substantially greater production and relative freedom from the losses by drought—in short, ever-normal and greater production.

There is still a vast amount to be done to control and utilize the state's impressive water resources, both underground and surface. But the bright side of it is that Nebraska is moving with vigor to the realization of water's full potential and it is good to know that the ultimate is such as will permit production goals that will dwarf the best the past has ever known.

The West Will Pay For Delay

There are many who would say that the old adage, "It is an ill wind that blows no one good," is trite. But in Egypt today, the answer could very well be, "Says who?"

Egypt has long dreamed of a great dam on the Upper Nile—an installation estimated to cost $1.3 billion which is an amount of money hard to come by in Egypt. But an upgraded economy in a hard-put country such as is Egypt demands such bold undertakings.

This week in the news there are strong indications that Egyptian Finance Minister Abdul Kaisouni will not leave Washington empty-handed. The World Bank is expected to pick up the tab for as substantial amount of the $400 million Egypt needs to get the Nile program under way. There are strong hints, too, that the United States will dig into its pocket for some substantial help.

This is a reverse in Egypt's fortunes. Until recently the World Bank and the western treasuries were not enthusiastic over Egypt's pleas. Why this quick change of heart?

It cannot be gainsaid that Russia's recent offer of aid to Egypt coupled with the latter's purchase of arms from Communist sources bore heavily on the West's new look. And to some close observers of old school diplomacy, the deal reflects more of the characteristics of the past than the future. A case of a minor power moving in when two major powers get into rivalry to work the middle against the ends for gain.

The play has worked many times in the past—enough to convince some minor nations that international rivalry offers more than world co-operation.

It is regrettable that the West did not break that pattern, for if the Nile dam was a worthy project before Russia and the West got to shouldering each other around in Egypt, it was just as entitled to sympathetic aid as it is now. Egypt it appears, will finally gain something it dearly needs but the West would have looked better if it had not permitted itself to be bludgeoned into it. If it foots the bill now, it will be several years too late to demonstrate the virtues of pure co-operation.

Of Men And Things

By J. E. LAWRENCE

Something of the confusion resulting from the effort of the Eisenhower administration to give the resources program a new dress as a partnership between local groups and Uncle Sam is reflected in this extract from the news story on the second annual National Watershed Congress meeting in Washington:

"The government's program under the 1954 Watershed Protection Act also was criticized for slowness in getting to construction. 'Not a shoveful of earth has yet been turned' on any project, the report said. It added, however, that planning work is under way and that some 25 projects will be ready for submission to Congress early next year."

The reference, we assume, is to the Hope-Aiken watershed act which has been extolled so highly in some of the press for its contribution, according to its friends, to America's No. 1 problem of restoring and rebuilding water levels in this country. Criticism of the slowness in getting to construction is not to be linked with the watershed pilot program of the Department of Agriculture, for which a very modest appropriation was made and which at this time has a number of projects under way. But there is entirely too much talk—too much hot air, in other words—about the watershed program and entirely too little action if the Hope-Aiken act is to meet the needs of these semi-arid reclamation states. Fact is, the watershed program is just beginning to bump into some of the difficulties inherent and inevitable in resource development. The news columns reported criticism of a requirement calling for almost local unanimous approval of a watershed proposal, coupled with approval by various federal agencies. There was objection to the cost-sharing feature of the Agriculture Department's watershed protection program. While the government (Uncle Sam) pays all cost of flood control features of large dams built by the Army Engineers, it requires an average 50-50 cost-sharing plan on watershed projects constructed in co-operation with local interests.

Muddying The Waters

That overlooks the varied goals of the so-called multiple-purpose dam constructed by the Army Engineers and by the Bureau of Reclamation. In the case of multiple-purpose dams the only items in the construction not subject to repayment to the federal treasury are whatever sums are earmarked for navigation and for flood control. Everything spent for water storage for irrigation purposes, for the development of irrigation systems, and finally for the generation of electricity must be repaid to Uncle Sam in full.

★

That points out the weakness of watershed development in certain restricted areas. The small dam, with its limited reservoir capacity, never can contribute to the many purposes served by the larger structure. It does not provide either irrigation or power. But most of all, it is a mistake and a serious mistake to attempt to standardize the methods of approach to flood control or to basin development of resources. What is good for one part of the country does not necessarily mean that it may apply to another section where factors of rainfall, soil, and other circumstances are wholly different. What makes sense in the Ohio River Basin, for example, may embody a lot of nonsense in the region to the west of the Missouri. In one, rainfall is well spaced, dependable, and until recently, at least, irrigation was of small consequence. In the other, drought is to be expected at regular intervals and the importance of regular water storage for irrigation behind big dams in large reservoirs cannot be over-emphasized. We should be careful not to make the mistake of undertaking to apply a standard program to every section of the country.

Unable To Qualify

If we're to get the most for our money, then there will be adequate elasticity of movement to permit us to give emphasis to those objectives in resource development which fit the needs of each region.

Public Unenlightened

The Republican-dominated Civil Service Commission has reported that since the Eisenhower directive of May, 1953, it has terminated the services of 3,586 federal employes because of security conditions.

Almost at the same time the Democratic-dominated Senate Civil Service subcommittee said that 3,244 of the number were dismissed under regular civil service or normal department procedures.

There is need for reconciliation of such figures, for they leave the public totally at sea. If "security conditions" means potential subversion, then the commission's 3,586-figure is truly a shocking piece of news and the nation has a problem it cannot answer with a dispassionate report. But if the subcommittee is correct in saying that by its definition of security, 3,244 of the removals did not involve real or potential subversion, then the country is in pretty good shape.

But with reports so greatly at variance, one thing is certain. The public is in bad shape. It can read anything or nothing into such reports, and it has less of an idea of how goes the security of the nation than if there had been no reports at all.

The first thing that is needed is a definition of subversion, understandable and realistic, and the second thing is that everyone making reports remain within the definition's metes and bounds.

Review Of Caudle Income Tax Case

WASHINGTON — Mrs. Lamar Caudle phoned me from St. Louis the other day. She was quite upset. She had come out to St. Louis with her husband when he testified before a grand jury and had offered to testify with him.

But the U. S. attorney told her it wasn't necessary. Then he and the U.S. marshal wished the Caudles luck and told them they could go back to North Carolina. Riding to the train, suddenly she heard over the radio that Lamar had been indicted. So Mrs. Caudle phoned me from St. Louis to ask what they should do.

It's pretty hard to give long-distance advice to a distraught wife. I'm afraid I wasn't much help. But later I dug into my files and found I had written about the same tax scandal five years before Prosecuting Attorney Wyllys Newcomb discovered it. Reading over the column, I found that I had reported on April 24, 1950:

"One of the biggest income-tax cases in the Midwest is now on pins-and-needles, following a White House phone call . . . Irving Sachs, who operates Shu-Styles in St. Louis . . . fudged on his income tax to the tune of more than $100,000 . . . and was scheduled for prosecution when a call came from the White House asking for a special conference with Sachs' new attorney, Harry Schwimmer of Kansas City . . . The case has now been delayed, perhaps indefinitely, on the ground that Sachs is too ill to stand trial . . . It's almost got so that an old man or an invalid can violate the tax laws with impunity — provided he can get a doctor to state that a criminal trial would endanger his life."

On the surface this wouldn't appear to help Mrs. Lamar Caudle much. Publication of almost the same facts as unearthed by Dewey-Bird-dog Newcomb five years later might even appear to incriminate Mrs. Caudle's husband.

However, I remember vividly where the information in that column came from. It came chiefly from Lamar Caudle himself. I had gone to him with a few facts. He had confirmed the facts and gone much further. He had been completely honest. He told me he had been worried about the call from Matt Connelly, the White House secretary, now indicted with him. He told me that he was under considerable political heat. He also told me about the conflicting views of doctors as to whether tax-Evader Sachs could stand trial.

I used to argue with Lamar about his idea that sick men couldn't stand trial. I thought he was too tender-hearted.

"I'm not going to have the blood of any man on my head," he would argue with that thick North Carolina drawl he made so famous during the internal revenue hearings.

The chief trouble with Lamar Caudle was that he came from a town where everybody trusted everybody else. Even a hobo could get hospitality in Wadesboro, N.C., and Caudle never thought twice about going out to dinner with queer looking characters who later turned out to be tax evaders.

"My daddy raised me to think no evil of any man," Lamar once reproved a friend who warned him about his dinner associates.

Almost Half The Congress Junketed

WASHINGTON—As all reporters know, there is nothing so broadening as travel on an expense account. The difference between the press and junketing congressmen is that reporters' employers get a look at their expense accounts, a privilege denied the U.S. voter.

This is the primary reason that congressional junketers are regarded satirically and even with suspicion.

Junketers use government transport. They spend congressional and counterpart funds, the latter being foreign currencies set aside for U.S. spending by nations receiving U.S. aid. Junketers free load on U.S. diplomats while their passion for bazaars and bargains is an international legend from the Aleutians to Mozambique. Often members of their families accompany them.

Then when they come home they get the courtesy of the port. That is, unlike you and me, they don't take their bargains through customs.

The law says they must report their use of counterpart funds to the House Administration and Senate Appropriations Committees. Presumably their congressional committees exact some form of expense account for committee funds spent.

In the days when only a few of the acknowledged big wheels of Congress took such journeys, the issue was less important. In fact, prior to World War II it was considered a political hazard at the grass roots to spend one's leisure among foreigners; the late Senator Borah, admired as a foreign affairs expert, took pride in the fact he never went to Europe where he might be roped in by dinner-napkin diplomacy.

But an Associated Press poll recently discloses that 206 members of the present Congress or nearly 40 per cent made happy landings all over the globe this year, in whole or in part on the taxpayers' cuff. In this area there is true bipartisanship; the 206 were about equally divided between Democrats and Republicans.

Their constituents can judge in some measure the value of their travels when Congress begins to debate important questions of defense and foreign aid. It is already clear that a major battle of the budget will rage over these issues, especially with the election year desire for a tax cut coming up as a complicating factor.

GOP Governors Report To Party

NEW YORK — All 21 Republican governors will turn in an account of how they feel the Eisenhower administration has worked out in their states. The reports, in the form of speeches to a comparatively limited but sensitive group, will be delivered to meetings of the National Republican Club of New York City. Few will be televised or reported on.

Vermont's flinty, snow-topped Gov. Joseph B. Johnson, a machinist and engineer who won by the smallest majority ever in that granite-slabbed citadel of Republicanism (5,200) was the fourth and latest of the governors to speak at the semi-official club of which the President is an enthusiastic member. Johnson preached "peace and prosperity."

"What has the Eisenhower program done for Vermont and New England?" he asked. "Just as is true throughout the country, the New England area is now enjoying the greatest peacetime prosperity in its history. Since the Republican administration took over in Washington in January, 1953, the confidence of business in general has heightened immeasurably. More venture capital is being put up to attract private industry, which in turn through its own expansion is making more jobs available."

Gov. Johnson feels pretty sure that Eisenhower is going to run again. Else why would National Chairman Len Hall talk so confidently? He couldn't say for sure whether Hall actually had asked the President about a second term. And he couldn't think of anybody else who might run, if Chief Justice Warren doesn't yield to a draft. "They say those California fellows are strong . . . Nixon, Knowland and Knight," he said, his voice trailing off a mite.

The National Republican Club is the sort of "half-way house" of the party. It has no official status, though every Republican president since Benj. Harrison has been a member of it. For 77 years it has enabled Republican leaders to speak their minds without sponsorship by or the permission of the national committee.

Tough-talking young Fred Hall's speech of Nov. 16 was a case in point. The zestful governor of Kansas, after quoting Churchill ("a successful politician is a person who can predict what will happen today, next day, next month, and next year; then explain, why it did not happen") tartly reminded the GOP that it is losing strength even though Eisenhower's popularity remains about the same.

"The Republican party is in trouble today because not enough Republicans are going the President's way," Hall said. "They do not agree with the President's philosophy and program. They are out of step with the President and with the people who voted for the Republican party in 1952. They insist on going a different way.

"We are alienating the support of millions of Americans, particularly those of labor and agriculture, whose support we must have if we are to continue to lead the government of this country. We are fighting the farmers. We are fighting with labor. The farmers and labor are the vast majority of the people. Instead of giving them aid and comfort and helping them solve their problems, we are going around the country telling them what is good for them and that they have never had it so good."

MAN'S BEST FRIEND

Kerry Blue Dog And Calico Cat

By ALLEN EDEE
Star Staff Writer

The old saw, "Like mother, like daughter," certainly does not apply to four-year-old Jill, a Kerry Blue terrier owned by the M. L. Robinsons of 3145 Mayflower.

For this Kerry Blue canine likes a calico cat. Dutchess, the cat, is just as friendly to the dog as Peter and John, the two Robinson boys.

The cat will leave part of her food in her dish for the sole enjoyment of Jill.

The clownish cat even allowed a squirrel inside the home so Jill could chase it.

The Robinsons did not care for the squirrel or the cat trick so they called the Humane Society to rescue the squirrel and their peace of mind.

The dog and cat make a cozy couple when Dutchess curls up into a ball inside the loving paws of Jill.

☆ ☆ ☆

Jill has another trait she did not inherit from her mother. The dog loves to swim. She learned the sport in the Lake of the Ozarks in Missouri.

One time the playful pup fell off the dock accidentally. The face in the water became matted with dog hair. Frantically the dog threshed around in the water.

A barrel floating in the water conked the frantic pup over the head. Mrs. Robinson came to the rescue and brushed the hair out of the dog's eyes.

Thank You

Hooper, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: We wish to take this opportunity to send a written note of appreciation for the Honor Farm Family Award, which was so generously presented to us this year. As we mentioned in Lincoln, we feel this is a fine gesture on the part of the Sunday paper in recognizing the farming industry and its place in our state's economy.

Our family certainly enjoyed the day in Lincoln, the fine luncheon, the visit with the governor, the publishers and editors of the newspapers as well as the interesting tour of points of interest in your city.

It was a day we will always remember!

Windblown Wash

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: The following which tells of something seen from my kitchen window explains why I am no lover of windy weather:

Gentle breeze a-blowing in the morning,
Harder as the hours go by,
By noon the sun is hidden by clouds,
Gray clouds that gather in the sky.

I put a lovely wash upon the line,
Some dainty things too nice to mention here,
And soon it was I saw a neighbor staring,
I thought it all seemed rather queer.

So out I looked and there they were,
Not where I had them pinned,
But sailing, turning, floating 'round—
Up—and then gone with the wind.

Ike's Health

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: The responsibility of the country for protecting the health of the President has become a very grave and serious matter. Any reader of the press cannot help but be impressed by the pronouncements of his advisers, the radio and press commentators, the doctors, and even the numerous small items of news that filter through to the public.

We were told months ago that he was not exposed to the press and newscasters, but most of us assumed that these were unestablished statements from unfriendly minds. The real shock came when it was authoritatively reported that the President was completely surprised at his recent cabinet meeting by the incidental information that France had withdrawn her representative from the United Nations Assembly.

Since the peace of the world depends upon the President, we all have a great stake in this common responsibility.

The Christmas Spirit

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: After seeing the picture in the Tuesday morning Star of the beautiful Christmas decorations that McCook has, we are wondering why Lincoln can't have similar ones. Some people must think that Mickey Mouse and Pluto represent the Christmas season better than do the stars, bells, snowmen, etc. that were up last year. Personally, we don't! I'm sure that many others feel the same way. Why should we disregard Nativity scenes and things more of a Christmas nature for storybook characters such as these?

It is believed that the money used for financing these particular decorations could have been used for a more practical purpose such as making a happier Christmas for those children not as fortunate as most. Certainly most of the Lincoln people would rather see this money used for a more beneficial cause than it was when these decorations were chosen.

The real meaning of Christmas (especially for children) is being ruined by objects that have no connection with Christmas.

Let's get some Christmas spirit!

Aid To Education

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: The educational shortages in the United States have been obvious and clearcut for more than 10 years. A year ago President Eisenhower appeared before Congress and made a logical and eloquent appeal for federal aid to education. President Truman made a similar recommendation at least twice during his administration.

Now comes the White House conference. Our commissioner of education, Freeman Decker, is quoted as saying:

"The White House conference was a delaying tactic on the part of a political party, or administration, to try to find out what the people thought about federal aid." The conference, even so, was overwhelmingly for federal funds for public schools. Federal Secretary M. B. Folsom is quoted as saying: "I am confident that in the weeks ahead, this administration will present to the Congress a broadened and improved program of federal assistance to help erase the classroom deficit."

In spite of all the confusion and cross-purposes, we might still have good hope for federal aid if it were not for the demands of the Catholic parochial schools. The Roman Catholic bishops have just renewed their demands to be cut in on the public funds. At the same time a newspaper report said: "The conference report opposed the use of federal tax money for support of non-public educational institutions." In spite of the fact that the Supreme Court has unanimously ruled that public monies could not be used for parochial schools, practical politicians tell us this is the most troublesome factor involved in the whole business.

All in all, the chance of federal aid is far from probable. This writer would be willing to risk his shirt that no significant public aid for public schools will ever come out of the federal government, much as this aid may be needed.

Education would be in a desperate situation in the United States if it were not for the fact it is strong and vigorous down among the grass roots.

Surplus Handling

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: News reports now say that the government has $7 billion in farm crops stored and that they don't know what to do with them. This shows that the handling of such surpluses has been a failure from the start. Surpluses have been allowed to pile up to keep the prices on the consumers, the farmer included. News reports last week said that we were giving away surplus butter to foreign countries, while we have millions of our own people who haven't tasted butter now for years. Will the government continue this waste? The whole system should be thrown out the window, and we should let supply and demand regulate once more.

"How much will it cost?" asked the business man,
For buying is done on a careful plan,
And the price is important. Lest money be lost,
To the penny a merchant must reckon the cost;
And "yes" to the salesman he'll seldom say
If he thinks it is more than he ought to pay.
He'll ask in advance ere the deal be made
Over how many months must the bill be paid.
No paper he'll sign without reading it through,
For that is the sensible thing to do.
And his books will show to the final cent
For just what wares was his money spent.
Well, Pleasure's a salesman with wares to sell,
But the cost of its goods it will seldom tell.

POSTCARD

I got a driver from J. Davy to take me out to London Airport. For the left-hand traffic of London is difficult, and to traverse the circle at Piccadilly Circus, with the flashing Bovril and Guiness signs and the theater traffic, puts me in a chill.

The driver, however, said there was nothing to it. And blime, 'e didn't fairly understand, sir 'ow you drive on the right 'and side in the States.

"It's against the feeling of the vehicle, sir. For your wheel's on the right. And if you drive on the right, 'ow can you seen where you go when you overtike."

"Overtake?"

"When you go to pawss another vehicle."

"They put the steering wheel on the left-hand side of the cars in the States."

"Cor, stone the crows!" said the driver. You could see what he was thinking: These blooming Yanks not only drive on the wrong side. They put the wheel on the wrong side.

☆ ☆ ☆

"And 'ow did you enjoy the car, sir?" he said. "The Austen A-50."

I said it was an excellent car. But I had trouble with the left-hand traffic and the right-hand drive. Also I had tried to get the hood up and couldn't find the catch.

"The 'ood, sir?"

"The cover over the engine."

"Oh, you mean the bonnet. Now the catch is right underneath. But you must give it a twist with a spanner if it sticks, being new and all."

"Spanner?"

"Like this, sir."

"Oh," I said "You mean the wrench."

"There's always one in the cubby locker, sir. Or usually." He put it back in the cubby locker.

"The glove compartment," I murmered.

"They 'ave strynge nymes for the parts of a vehicle in America, don't they, sir?"

"They do, indeed," I said. "Strynger and strynger."

London Airport was glowing with green field lights under the London overcast.

I checked my baggage and followed the signs. Through passport inspection. Through health card inspection. Through baggage inspection. Out the ramp to the big, white Constellation with the black radar nose.

Captain Orme Gove was flying, a TWA captain I have flown with so much I could practically go copilot. He said Gander was weathered in and we would stop at Shannon for gas.

"Oh, I said, "you mean petrol." Tell me I'm not learning the language!

We had only a half hour at Shannon. The airport was jammed. For here is where the transatlantic planes fill up before and after the long, long jump.

There were sleeper seats. The first time I had ridden this type of plane. The seats are spaced a good way apart. They pull a long foot rest like a deck chair out from under the seat. Tilt back and it's nearly as good as a berth.

And when we woke in the morning we were over Boston. Flying down to New York, with breakfast on the trays and the buzzing of the electric razors from the aft part of the ship and the low hum of the engines throttled back on the long descent to Idlevild.

And by that afternoon I was up in Massachusetts. There was the first fall of white snow on the dark ground. The cab driver said you had to be careful when you passed in weather like this and he had stopped for gas a little while ago and put in antifreeze. Cor, I could 'ardly understand the bloke with 'is strynge nymes for petrol and the bonnet and cubby locker.

Value Of Reclamation Projects To State Pointed Out

Future Basin Work Told At Scottsbluff Meet

SCOTTSBLUFF, Neb. (AP) — The gross value of farm products produced in the North Platte Valley in 1955 had an estimated value of $20 350,000, R. J. Walter Jr., Region 7 director of the Bureau of Reclamation in Denver, told the joint convention of the Nebraska Reclamation Assn. and the Nebraska Irrigation Assn. here Thursday.

Walter reported to the convention that there are now 1,393,000 acres of land irrigated in Nebraska.

He estimated that the 1955 total would reach 1,500,000.

"Production of crops from Bureau of Reclamation projects has been noteworthy," he said. "North Platte Valley projects again had an excellent year. The late frost enabled crops to mature well."

Progress Reported

In discussing future projects Walters said the bureau is looking ahead to development of projects on the Niobrara, Loup, North Loup, Platte and Republican Rivers. The Ainsworth project is pretty well along, he reported.

"We hope the next session of Congress will give us the full appropriation for the project."

Around O'Neill, on the Niobrara River studies started this fall for the irrigation of 66,000 acres.

The Farwell unit on the Loup River has been approved by the Bureau of Reclamation this fall and involves 52,500 acres.

The North Loup investigation have proceeded slower but will advance as fast as possible covering 60,000 acres.

The Mid-State project on the Lower Platte River near Grand Island has proceeded well, he said.

The Republican River basin work is proceeding rapidly. The vote next week on the Red Willow-Hitchcock Irrigation District involves 4,200 acres.

'Valuable Resource'

Stanley Miller, chief of the civil works branch of the Denver area office of the Corps of Engineers, reported "Water is fast becoming one of our most valuable national resources. The Corps of Engineers as one of the most important roles in development of flood-control.

"Because Nebraska has the greatest number of miles of flowing rivers the Corps of Engineers plays a more important role."

Current flood control problems involve the Niobrara, Republican and Platte river basins.

Miller said that the Niobrara does not have serious problems. The Republican problems will be served by completion of the present program.

From the standpoint of water control the Platte Valley is one of the most complex basins in the Midwest and with the completion of additional works planned it will be one even more complex, Col. Anthony J. Fleming of the Omaha Army Engineer's office told the group.

Col. Fleming said this complexity is due to the numerous points at which water is diverted and returned to the stream in connection with existing irrigation and power developments.

He added that probably less attention is paid to flood control in the Platte than in any other basin of comparable size subject to heavy concentrated rain in the Missouri Basin.

"It looks like the Platte's flood control problems have been neglected when we consider that its drainage area exceeds the combined drainage area of several of the other Missouri tributaries studied," he said, adding that possibly the existing storage controlling runoff from substantial areas has prompted a "false sense of security."

Harold P. Sutton of McCook, president of the Nebraska Reclamation Assn., presided at Thursday morning's opening session.

U.S. Sen. Roman Hruska (R-Neb) spoke at the joint banquet Thursday night, over which C. Petrus Peterson, Lincoln, president of the National Reclamation Assn., presided.

Dean W. V. Lambert of the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture will address the convention Friday morning on "Observations Behind the Iron Curtain." Chancellor Clifford M. Hardin of the University of Nebraska will speak at the windup luncheon.

Richardson County Rural Schools Are Said Pretty Good

FALLS CITY, Neb. (AP)—Although redistricting still is in the future, Richardson county's rural school children still have pretty good plants in which to attend classes, in the opinion of Mrs. R. A. Hanika, county superintendent.

Of the 49 operating school districts in the county all but one school house has electricity. Only five still heat with the old-fashioned coal stove and 20 of the rural schools have purchased film-strip projectors which they can use with the 360 film strips in the county superintendent's library. Mrs. Hanika said all of the rural school textbooks are kept up to date and buildings are in good repair.

Two Questioned In North Platte Robbery

Crime Wave Puzzles Experts

NORTH PLATTE, Neb. (AP)—Two men were in custody Thursday in connection with the beating and robbery of a cafe operator as State Safety Patrol crime experts tried to piece together a puzzling local crime wave.

Leo Roblyer, 22, McCook, was being returned from Hastings where he was picked up on a robbery warrant issued in North Platte. Arrested earlier was Charles B. Mayhew, 20, also of McCook.

The two are being questioned in connection with the robbery and beating of Jim Kantaras in the White Front Cafe Saturday. Kantaras was left unconscious on the floor after the intruders robbed him.

A State Safety Patrol team, headed by Capt. Harold Smith of the criminal investigation department, were headquartering here while questioning three other persons under arrest.

Fourth Man Arraigned

They are: Glendon Thomlinson, 23, North Platte; Harold Carfield, 20, McCook, and Richard (Dick) Coleman, 33, North Platte. All are charged with armed robbery.

A fourth man; Jack Richardson, 26, North Platte, was arraigned on an armed robbery charge. He waived preliminary hearing, was bound over to District Court and released on $5,000 bond.

Shortly after Richardson was released, he was re-arrested on a warrant from Cherry County, charging breaking and entering of the Tetherow Motor Co., Nov. 30. A safe taken during the burglary had been located at North Platte.

Richardson had been arrested here along with Coleman in connection with the robbery of Jasper Giddings, operator of the Hub Bar, Nov. 24.

Services Saturday For Mrs. Cropley

HASTINGS — Funeral services for Mrs. Sarah F. Cropley, 63, resident of Hastings for 46 years, will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday in the Livingston - Butler - Volland Chapel here. She died in a local hospital.

A native of Kenesaw, she was the widow of Clarence F. Cropley.

Surviving are a daughter, Emma Mae, at home, four sisters, and two brothers.

Choral Clinic Held At Peru

Guest Conductor Hardin Van Deursen, extreme left, held an informal workout with high school students attending the fourth annual choral clinic and festival on the Peru State Teachers College campus at Peru. Outdated Fairbury Ordinances Tossed Out By Councilmen

FAIRBURY, Neb. (AP) — Thirty days hence it will no longer be illegal to smoke cigarettes in a public eating place in Fairbury, sell perfumed cigarettes or engage in a sport which might frighten a horse.

But right now these things all are illegal in Fairbury.

The City Council is tossing them out in a revision of ordinances that will become effective in 30 days. The principal purpose of the revision was to eliminate duplications and put the city ordinances in a more workable order.

Explosion Baffles Pawnee City Area

PAWNEE CITY, Neb.—An explosion that shook buildings here recently has residents of this community pondering.

Although no definite explanation has been given, many believe that the answer may be that a jet plane going over town at the time cracked the sound barrier.

The blast shook doors at the school house, and several big windows in town vibrated as well as dishes and glasses in business houses and homes.

Beatrice Home Head Plans Survey

. . . New Superintendent Eyes Release Program

M. E. Wyant, who was appointed Beatrice State Home superintendent Thursday, said he planned a complete survey of the release program at the Home soon.

The survey, he said, would "determine possible recommendations which can be made to the Board of Control and the Legislature in order to expedite the release of any eligible boy or girl."

The Board promoted Wyant, business manager of the Home since 1951 to superintendent, effective immediately.

D. T. Higbee, who has been acting superintendent, will remain at the Home as assistant superintendent for the time being, the Board said.

Higbee was not interested in the superintendency as a permanent position, theBoard said, because he prefers penal work.

Wyant said he will continue and "expand wherever possible" the educational program, both academic and vocational, at the Home.

As superintendent "I shall continue to maintain the high standards of the Beatrice State Home," he said.

"We will co-operate fully with the Board of Control, mental health director Dr. Wittson and his staff, and the advisory board appointed for this institution by Gov. Anderson," he said.

M. E. WYANT

Wyant, who has worked for the Board of Control since 1936, has held positions at the Lincoln State Hospital and the Men's Reformatory here.

His army service from April, 1945, to August 1946, includes a course in the Armored Training School at Ft. Knox, Ky., and a tour of duty in Okinawa.

Wyant, a native of Obert, Neb., is 40. He and his wife have a daughter, Karen, 14, and a son, Jack, 11.

His position as superintendent of the Beatrice Home pays $455 a month plus food.

Food Sanitation Meet Postponed

A meeting to discuss ways of setting up a hearing board for eating house sanitation violators in Lincoln has been set over for Friday.

The meeting originally was planned for Thursday. A conflict with another meeting caused the delay.

Requested by Dr. James T. Googe, City, County Health Department director, the hearing board plan would determine if violations of health standard regulations in eating houses should be processed through court.

The meeting Friday will be held at the Health Department.

Leo Beck Jr., Wayne Kingery and Don Wilson were elected to serve three-year terms as directors.

Maly was named chairman for the 1956 Home Show to be held in March at the state fairgrounds.

Last year's president was W. Roy Kirsch.

Water Eyed

WASHINGTON (INS) — The Supreme Court took under consideration whether to bring upper Colorado basin states into the water controversy between Arizona and California.

The court heard lengthy arguments from attorneys from Arizona, California, Nevada, all in the lower basin, and others representing the upper basin states.

California asked the Supreme Court to make the four upper Colorado river basin states parties to the Arizona-California water controversy.

Reds Say France Arrested Pole In New Berlin Issue

BERLIN (INS) — Communist Poland accused France Thursday night of "illegally arresting" a member of its military mission in a new Berlin incident. His immediate release was demanded.

The Russians have not yet replied to two U.S. Army inquiries concerning two American soldiers arrested by East German police Wednesday after a street brawl.

Radio Warsaw said Czeslav Kalinski, second secretary of the Polish Mission, was arrested by French military police in West Berlin.

The new incident was disclosed shortly after an authoritative Communist diplomatic source declared that despite conflicting East German newspaper reports the Russians have no intention of tearing up the four-power Berlin agreements.

The informant, close to the Soviet embassy in East Berlin, said Russia will continue to respect Allied circulation rights in the Soviet sector of the divided city.

The U.S. Army disclosed it still was waiting for a Russian reply to its second inquiry concerning the identities of the two Americans arrested on charges of beating up a cabaret singer.

Morrison Waiting To Take Action On Special Session

SCOTTSBLUFF, Neb. (AP)—State Sen. Amos Morrison of Mitchell said he will wait until after the first of the year before doing anything further about a special legislative session on Nebraska's electrical power problems.

The senator indicated he will wait until the state political picture clears before making a decision on whether to renew his request for a special session.

Morrison added he does not want to "interfere with progress" on projects already underway.

Another consideration, he said, is that the Central Nebraska Public Power and Irrigation District (Tri-County) plans a bond sale in January to finance construction of a plant near Lexington, and the district feels agitation for a special power session might hamper progress of the project.

Superintendents Hear Talk On School Finance

Some 60 county school superintendents Thursday heard Paul Seidel, finance director of the State Department of Education, outline and explain county school financial accounting and reports.

Seidel spoke to the group during the afternoon session of the meeting of the state association of county superintendents.

A banquet Thursday evening featuring Dr. Frank A. Court, pastor of St. Paul Methodist Church in Lincoln, as guest speaker concluded the activities for the day.

Friday morning the group will have a roundtable by the commissioner of education and his staff and will hear Dr. Earle Wiltse, superintendent of Grand Island Schools, speak on "Can Johnny Read."

A Thursday afternoon panel on state services for the exceptional child was held with Dr. Vernon Hungate of the State Department of Education as moderator. Other members were Dr. Madison Brewer of the University of Nebraska, Stanley Good of the State Child Welfare Division and Mrs. Elizabeth Ellison of Saunders County.

Glenn Turner of Lincoln told the superintendents of the duties and services of the visiting teacher.

Miss Alma Dorst,a penmanship consultant from Columbus, O., held two sessions during the day on present programs of increasing their daily work.

Interest in the programs is high, she said. The programs are based on work with the individual child and his ability and does not conform to extreme patterns of past teachings, she said.

It is her opinion that the fine art of handwriting is returning and is five years the overall picture is going to be greatly improved.

Ships, Planes End Search For 7 Men

HONOLULU (INS) — The Navy called off the sea search Thursday for seven crewmen still missing in the crash of a Nevy Neptune patrol bomber 60 miles northwest of Pearl Harbor.

Three planes, two Navy patrol bombers and one Air Force B-29, were ordered to continue circling the area the rest of the day, but officials held little hope for the survival of the missing men.

Six submarines and two destroyer escorts returned to Pearl Harbor after combing the sea throughout the day.

The Neptune carrying a crew of 10 plunged into the ocean Wednesday night. A short time later the submarine Bashaw picked up three survivors, two of them in need of medical attention.

They were identified as Lt. K. C. Guedel, Dover, O., pilot; Lt. (JG.) E. F. O'Malley, Chicago, co-pilot, and Lt. (J.G.) Robert S. Smith, Eufala, Ala., navigator.

The Bashaw arrived at Pearl Harbor Thursday morning. Guedel and Smith were taken to Tripler hospital but were not believed to be in serious condition.

Submarine crewmembers said one of the trio of survivors reported he thought he saw a fourth man after the crash but lost sight of him while inflating his life preserver.

Industry, Labor Split On Taxes

Boost To Investor Or Buyer Is Question

WASHINGTON (AP) — Spokesmen for industry and labor split Thursday on whether the emphasis in tax policy should be placed on encouraging investment or consumption.

Emerson P. Schmidt, director of economic research for the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, told a Senate-House Economic subcommittee that the economic growth of the country requires "the incentive to invest."

He said that individual income tax rates should be re-examined "with a view to encouraging capital by lowering the middle and upper levels."

Discouraging

Similarly, John C. Davidson, director of the government finance department of the National Assn. of Manufacturers, said the existing income tax rate structure has "discouraging effects" on economic incentives and risk taking.

But Stanley H. Ruttenberg, CIO director of research, testified that "the government's tax policy should place its major emphasis on the need for a continuing expansion of consumer markets."

He said such a policy required an increase in personal income tax exemptions to expand purchasing power and argued that the level of business investment in new plant and equipment rests not so much on business tax rates as general market conditions and particularly consumer markets.

Add Million A Year

Schmidt said the nation's large population growth soon will add an average of a million new workers to the labor market each year, and "there will be need for very large new investment funds."

"Since the bulk of venture capital, other than that generated by existing businesses, historically comes from the middle and upper income sources," he said, "considerable emphasis should be given to a tax cut at those levels, as well as a cut across the board."

Ruttenberg countered that "the rising productivity of fixed capital has been reducing the national economic importance of business investment in new plant and equipment." He said he couldn't see that "there is basically a shortage of capital."

Inmates Receive Underwear Again At Reformatory

Underwear shorts are becoming standard apparel again for Nebraska Men's Reformatory inmates.

It wasn't always thus, according to the State Board of Control.

The situation came to light, board sources said, when the board received a requisition Sept. 19 from the then Supt. M. L. Wimberley for a whopping 600 pair of men's shorts. Wimberley took over Sept. 8 with the discharge of Supt. George L. Morris.

Since then, the new superintendent, Robert Nichols, has requistioned 24 hospital gowns for inmates confined to the institution hospital.

An investigation by the board showed that inmates previously had no shorts or undershirts issued to them unless they were leaving the Reformatory. Inmates either wore no undercloth-ing or obtained some from the outside. Hospital patients lacked pajamas or gowns also, the board said.

C. A. Davis Admitted To D.C. Law Practice

WASHINGTON (AP)—Clarence A. Davis of Lincoln, under-secertary of the Interior Department, was admitted to the practice of law in the District of Columbia. He was administered the oath by U. S. District Judge Charles F. McLaughlin, former member of Congress from Omaha.

Kentucky Judge Indicted On Charge Of Aiding Alleged Baby-Selling Plot

MOREHEAD, Ky. (AP) — Rowan County Judge William T. McClain was indicted on a charge of aiding in an alleged baby-selling plot.

Two other indictments were returned by the Rowan County grand jury charging Judge McClain with malfeasance in office.

The jury charged that McClain aided Zelda Brown McPherson, 32, in the alleged procurement of babies for sale to rich childless women in Texas.

The jury, which had been meeting in closely guarded sessions for three weeks, also charged Mrs. McPherson, former draft board clerk at Morehead who now lives in Texas, with taking away two children and accepting remuneration for the procurement of another child, identified as Charles Andrew Hayes.

Destroyed Records

The misfeasance indictments charged Judge McClain with taking fines which he collected and refusing to turn them over to the state and destroying records of bonds taken by him by removing them from the bond record books.

McClain said he would have a statement to make later. "There's nothing to this like they (the jury) claim," McClain said. "I ask the people to hold their judgment until all the facts are presented."

The indictment linking Judge McClain with the alleged baby selling plot charged the judge aided and abetted Mrs. McPherson in taking a child under 10 years of age.

Kentucky state police announced Oct. 6 they had conducted a two-month investigation and charged in Rowan County court that Mrs. McPherson procured babies from underprivileged homes in the county and received money for the children when they were adopted by wealthy Texans.

Last Oct. 10 the case came before Judge McClain. Records show he dismissed the charges against Mrs. McPherson and released her bondsmen.

Knowland Pondering Primary

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. William F. Knowland (R-Calif) was reported Thursday to be considering entering the April 10 Illinois presidential primary if President Eisenhower does not indicate by mid-January whether he will seek a second term.

Knowland, the Senate Republican leader, declined to discuss the matter with reporters. He stuck to his previous statement that he believes Eisenhower will make an early announcement of his intentions.

It was learned, however, that the California senator thinks Republicans who aspire to the presidency would be justified in becoming active candidates if the Eisenhower decision is delayed beyond the closing date for entry in any primary.

Jan. 23 Final

Jan. 23 is the final date on which petitions may be filed to place the name of candidates on the Illinois ballot. The state's preference vote for presidential candidates is merely advisory—not binding on the 60 delegates to be chosen for the 1956 presidential nominating convention.

The consent of a candidate is not required in Illinois. Thus the President's name could be put on the ballot even if he had not indicated his plans.

Knowland was said by friends to believe that the weight of public pressure will bring some sort of announcement from Eisenhower before Jan. 15. Indications have been that his final physical checkup to determine the extent of recovery from his September heart attack will not be made until late that month or possibly in February.

'Long Life'

JAIPUR, India (AP) — Cries of "Long live Maharaja Bulganin" greeted the Soviet Premier when he and Communist party chief Nikita Khrushchev donned Indian turbans at a civic reception.

A crowd of 50,000 assembled outside the Ram Bagh Palace museum to welcome the visitors on their arrival for a 19-hour stay in Jaipur, in the Indian province of Rajasthan. Gifts presented to Bulganin and Khruschev by the Rajasthan government ranged from a pair of tiger cubs named "Pleasantness" and "Pearl" to marble statues of the elephant god Ganesh.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ufferman of Lincoln.

Rebels Attacked

They reported seizure of weapons and a small quantity of explosives and the arrest of eight men.

Negro Testifies Sent Son Away After Mail Threat

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) — An elderly Negro testified Thursday that he sent his teen-aged son out of Arkansas because, "I didn't want my boy to get what that whistling boy got."

Clarence Braxton, 73, made the reference to the recent slaying of Emmett Till in Mississippi. He testified in a federal court hearing on a request for a permanent injunction to prohibit segregationists from interfering with the racially integrated schools at Hoxie, Ark.

Braxton testified that he received in the mails a newspaper clipping concerning the Till case. Across it was written: "Your boy can get the same thing," he said.

The testimony was given at the opening session of a hearing before Federal Judge Albert L. Reeves of Kansas City, who must decide whether to make permanent a preliminary injunction the Hoxie school board has obtained against three prosegregation organizations. The defendants are White America, Inc., the White Citizens Councils of Arkansas, and the Hoxie Committee for Segregation.

"Reign of terror" with "talk of lynching" enveloped Hoxie when opponents of racial integration opened their campaign, attorney Bill Penix charged.

Penix said peace was restored only when a preliminary injunction against three prosegregation groups was handed down last month by Federal Judge Thomas C. Trimble at Little Rock.

Worth $18 Million

PITTSBURGH (INS)—The United Steelworkers Union has released its latest audit which shows that the 1,200,000 member labor organization has a net worth of $18,866,182.

The 26th semi-annual audit covered the period from Jan. 1, 1955, to June 30, 1955. The union, now affiliated with AFL-CIO, contends that the new figure represents an increase of $1,239,743 over the net worth reported for the previous six-month period.

Weds Sam Whitworth

MRS. SAMUEL A. WHITWORTH

With only the members of the immediate families attending the service, the marriage of Miss Louise Joyce Yatros, daughter of John Yatros of White Sulphur Springs, W.Va., and the late Mrs. Yatros, to Samuel Axtell Whitworth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Axtell Whitworth of Lincoln took place at St. Brigid's Church, Westbury, Long Island, N.Y., on Saturday afternoon, Nov. 26. The 3:30 o'clock ceremony was solemnized by the Rev. Father Ellender before arrangements of white carnations, stephanotis, and white gladioli. Large white satin bows marked the processional aisle on either side.

Miss Jacqueline Yatros of White Sulphur Springs, as her sister's maid of honor and only attendant, appeared in a frock of Wedgewood blue taffeta. A gently draped fischu contoured the below-shoulder line of the fitted empire bodice, and the floor-length skirt had extreme bouffancy. A shoulder-length veil, held to the head with a Juliet cap, reflected the tone of her frock and she carried a bouquet of yellow roses. Lannie Philips was her cousin's flower girl.

Arthur A. Whitworth served his son as best man.

A period gown of white parchment peau de soie was chosen by the bride for her wedding. Sprays of minute pleats, caught with a jeweled medallion, contoured the deep decolletage of the long-sleeved, sculptured bodice, and the soft folds of the voluminous skirt extended into a long train. Her cathedral-length veil was a mantilla of sheer French Chantilly lace, brought from Europe by the bride, and she carried an empire bouquet of white orchids and stephanotis.

After a reception, held at the Garden City Hotel, Garden City, N.Y., Mr. Whitworth and his bride left for a honeymoon trip. They now are at home at 166 Pearsall Dr., Apt. 2-H, Mount Vernon, N.Y.

Mrs. Whitworth was graduated from the University of West Virginia where she is a member of Phi Beta Kappa and Mortar Board. Following her graduation she received a Fulbright scholarship for a year's study at the University of Nancy, Nancy, France. For the past three years she has been in the service of the United States government in France.

Mr. Whitworth is a graduate of the University of Nebraska, where he is a member of Beta Theta Pi fraternity. He recently completed three and a half years tour of overseas duty with the Air Force and now is associated with the First National City Bank in New York City.

Just A Snack Crowded

WE SEEM to be just a snack crowded this morning — but we'll hurry along and see how much we can tell before the final period—We know, for instance, that Mrs. Clarence Swanson has hied herself off to Chicago for a visit with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Druliner — But the adult Druliners really are incidental—the real purpose of the trip is to extend a personal greeting to her new granddaughter who arrived just a week ago.

* * *

SPEAKING of new arrivals—Just learned that Andrew Alan Hall and Michael Martin Hall arrived on Thursday, Dec. 8, at Bryan Memorial Hospital—Alan and Michael are the twin sons of Mr. and Mrs. Richard E Hall, and their mother is the former Jacqueline Andrews, daughter of Mrs. Luther G Andrews and the late "Boots" Andrews, and a Tri-Delta at the University of Nebraska. The paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Hall.

* * *

SINCE we seem to be on bridal topics we may as well continue and tell you that on Sunday evening Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Volz are entertaining in courtesy to Miss Daisy DuTeau and her fiance, Gates Minnick — Actually the spotlight is to be on the bridegroom-elect who will be presented with a shower of miscelianeous gifts at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Volz before the group goes to the Lincoln Country Club to dine.

* * *

AND also at the Lincoln Country Club on Sunday evening is the dinner for which Mr. and Mrs. Frank Proudfit will be host and hostess when they entertain in prenuptial courtesy to Miss Judy Flansburg and her fiance, Robert Burton. Dinner places will be arranged for only members of the families, and the guest list will include Mr. Burton's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Robert M. Burton of Falls City.

Republic Fund Is Criticized By Walter

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman Walter (D-Pa) of the House Committee on Un-American Activities said Thursday night it was "gratifying" to learn that Henry Ford "is finally disturbed by some of the activities of the Fund for the Republic."

"Current investigations by the Un-American Activities Committee," Walter said in a statement, "will undoubtedly disturb Mr. Ford even more by disclosing evidence to show that the Fund deliberately intends to obstruct all investigation and control of the Communist conspiracy and to strengthen thereby the forces bent on the overthrow of this nation and its institutions."

Walter previously had announced that his committee planned public hearings probably next month in its investigation of the Fund for the Republic.

Henry Ford II, president of the Ford Motor Co., and chairman of the trustees of the Ford Foundation, sponsor of the Fund, criticized the Fund in a letter to a Syracuse, N.Y. American legionnaire.

Writing "as a private citizen" Ford said he felt some of its actions "have been dubious in character and inevitably have led to charges of poor judgment . . ." Ford noted that his post with the Foundation gave him no legal right to intervene in its affairs.

The fund was set up in 1952 by a 15-million-dollar grant from the Ford Foundation to promote principles laid down in the U. S. Constitution and Bill of Rights.

Paul G. Hoffman, chairman of the board for the Fund, said in Los Angeles:

"Everyone who has examined the record of the Fund agrees that it has made important contributions toward 1. the acquiring of knowledge which will enable us better to combat the Communist menace; 2. promoting understanding of the vital role which civil liberties play in our country, and 3. making a reality of the 'equality of opportunity' through its studies in the area of race relations."

Former School May House Health Dept.

This building at 18th and Q, the former Bryant School, may become temporary quarters for the City-County Health Dept. if the Lincoln School Board decides to sell the quarter-block on which the building is located. The matter is on the agenda for the School Board meeting next Tuesday. Hugh Thorne, a member of the Health Board, said the city would like to own the property and he hopes the School Board would trade the land for some tract the city owns. The building now is being used for storage. (Star Photo.)

Ensemble Initiates Season Of Artistic Music Performance

By RUTH ARDIS

The Fine Arts Ensemble initiated another season of artistic musical performance Thursday evening at the Union Ballroom. The group played an unusually varied program, including a recent work for horn, violin, and piano by Hugo Kauder. The size of the audience increases year by year, giving evidence of increased interest in chamber music and the fine performances of this group.

Jack Snider joined the ensemble as assisting artist in Kauder's horn trio. This work was a fine vehicle for showing Mr. Snider's versatility on the French horn. The work is characterized by rythmic irregularities and parallel movements of the three instruments. A most beautiful effect was achieved in the Lento between violin and muted horn. This was the first performance of the work in this area, and it merits repeated performances.

The Mozart Quartet in D Major was delightful. The melodic and spontaneous nature of the music always provides a pleasing beginning for an evening of listening.

The Brahms Piano Quartet in G Minor contained the usual emotional fervor and nuances so characteristic of the composer. Technically the work is difficult and requires a high level of artistry. The most popular movement with the audience was the Rondo in gypsy style with many changes in mood and tempo. Gladys May at the piano gave an exceptional performance of the intricate solo passages and managed to achieve a fine blend with the strings in the accompaniments.

The personnel of the Ensemble includes Emanuel Wishnow, director and first violinist; Truman Morsman, second violinist; Max Gilbert, violist; Rosemary Madison, cellist; and Miss May, pianist.

The concerts are sponsored by the Friends of Chamber Music.

Bank Notes, Call Are New Leads In Omaha Slaying

OMAHA (AP) — Three bank notes bearing traces of what might be blood were turned over to Sheriff's officers Thursday, represent one of two new leads in the Erick William Burkwist slaying.

The other lead concerned a man who may have telephoned for a cab Sunday night from the bowling center where Burkwist's bloodied taxi was abandoned.

The man was questioned by investigators Thursday.

The two bills were discovered by Floyd Byerley, who said he may have received them at a gasoline station in Council Bluffs or a downtown Omaha hotel where he cashed checks Sunday night.

Nine Questioned In Omaha Robbery

OMAHA (AP) — Nine persons were questioned by police in Omaha and Council Bluffs Thursday after one of the group was identified as being involved in a drug store robbery Wednesday night.

Although no charges had been filed at noon, authorities said they were piecing together what they described as a strong chain of evidence against the nine, five men and four women.

Dulles Says West Must Keep Its 'Retaliation' Power

Hit-Back Policy Is Restated

CHICAGO (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles said Thursday night Western countries must bolster their alliances and maintain "selective retaliatory power" in order to meet Russia's new challange to their security.

"Or capacity to retaliate must be, and is, massive in order to deter all forms of aggression," Dulles said. "But if we have to use that capacity, such use would be selective and adapted to the occasion."

Dulles spoke out in a major foreign policy address before the Illinois Manufacturers Assn.

Loosen Grip

He predicted that Western European nations, by speeding up their drive toward unity and greater prosperity, eventually would increase pressure on Russia to loosen its grip on its satellite states.

"This unity may speed the day," the secretary said, "when Soviet rulers will come to realize that to hold these European nations in subjugation involves an obsolete reactionary practice, entailing costs, moral and material, far outweighing the seeming advantages."

Dulles advised that "we need not become panicky" because Russia's rulers have launched a major campaign of promises of aid to underdeveloped areas in the world.

Free Asiatic leaders, he said, will not be "easily duped by false promises" from Russia, nor will they disregard the danger of communism.

Respond

He added that Congress will "patriotically respond" with appropriations for "as much money for this purpose as we think can usefully be spent" to continue America's historic program of aid to less developed lands.

Dulles did not predict how much Congress would be asked to provide for this purpose, but he said the Eisenhower administration would "seek somewhat more flexibility than heretofore" in its foreign aid spending program.

Doctor, 81, Now Riding Bicycle

MARKHAM, Ont. (AP) — Markham's oldest physician, Dr. Arthur L. Hore, has switched to a bicycle since his license to drive a car was canceled two months ago.

Dr. Hore, 81, said Thursday he may be too old to drive a car but he can ride a bicycle as well as any high school boy.

He pedals about four miles a day to make his rounds in this village on the northeastern outskirts of Toronto. He started his practice here in 1910.

The spry old doctor said he drove 300,000 miles in the 35 years he had a car. He was health officer for Markham township for 20 years.

Ex-Con Held In Suspected Kidnap Death

JOPLIN, Mo. (AP) — James B. Taylor, an ex-convict, was arrested here Thursday on a federal charge involving some of the checks missing after the apparent kidnaping and slaying of a Thief River Falls, Minn., bank cashier.

After the 30-year-old Detroit, Mich., man was taken into custody here, the FBI in Kansas City said he had been charged with interstate transportation of part of the travelers' checks missing from the Northern State Bank of Thief River Falls. The charge was filed in Detroit.

Kenneth J. Lindberg, the cashier, was found slain Nov. 26 near Clear Lake, Minn. He had been missing since Nov. 12, after keeping an appointment with a stranger.

Taylor was released from the federal penitentiary at Terre Haute, Ind., Oct. 29, after serving a sentence for violation of the Dyer Motor Vehicle Theft Act.

The complaint accused Taylor of unlawfully transporting from Detroit to San Francisco Bank of America travelers' checks amounting to more than $5,000. Taken from the Thief River Falls Bank were $14,000 in travelers' checks and $1,850 in silver dollars.

French Bikini Queen Balks At 'Skimpy' Costume

NEW YORK (INS) — "Miss France of 1956," a beauty queen who doesn't mind posing in a Bikini bathing suit, walked out of an American night club contract Thursday because her costumes were "too skimpy."

Blonde, 21-year-old Giselle Thierry, who got to the U. S. only Wednesday, is preparing to go back home to Paris Friday after storming out on a $15,000 six-months contract because she had to wear net and spangles.

The tall and beautiful Giselle, all smiles on her arrival at the airport, refused to pose for photographers Thursday or try on the $5,000 worth of costumes bought for her by Lou Waters, owner of the Latin Quarter night clubs.

The Parisian beauty, according to Walters, took her troubles to the French Consul, who arranged with the night club operator to let Giselle go home.

Giselle couldn't be reached for comment on the costume she thought was so skimpy, but Walters said it amounted to a "net leotard (one-piece torso suit) with an embroidered Eiffel Tower in front." Walter insisted the costume covered more than a Bikini bathing suit would.

Tree Lighted

NEW YORK (AP) — Thousands jammed Rockefeller Plaza Thursday night to watch the traditional lighting of the plaza's six-story high Christmas tree.

Traffic was blocked on one side of the plaza and it moved at a snail's pace on the other two sides.

The towering Norway spruce, erected alongside the plaza's outdoor skating rink, was lighted by 2,500 "firefly" bulbs and 1,400 large colored globes resembling Japanese lanterns.

This is the 23rd year in which a tree has been lit in the plaza. The lighting has been televised over the NBC network for the past three years.

'Lucky Thumb' Helps New Yorker Make Fortune Discovering Old Masters' Paintings

NEW YORK (INS) — Frederick N. Silberman of the Bronx, N. Y., says he is "a man with a lucky thumb and the world's most lucrative hobby."

His hobby is discovering old masters.

Silberman announced today that he had discovered a rare painting by the Genovese master Domenico Piola (1628-1703) in a jumble shop near New York's third avenue.

He says he paid "less than five hundred dollars" for the picture, whose value he estimates at $15,000.

"With the discovery of the Piola," Silberman declared, "the total value of paintings I have discovered so far amounts to nearly half a million dollars."

Just Thumb It

"My method is very simple," he explains. "When I see a painting that attracts me I just wet my thumb and rub it on the canvas. This brings out the quality of the picture."

Silberman says his "lucky thumb" so far has helped him discover three Rubens and a number of other masters.

The Piola canvas, representing a madonna with the infant Savior, adored by two angels, was authenticated in a letter from Dr. Hermann Voss, former director of the museum in Dresden, Germany. Dr. Voss is recognized as a leading authority on Italian 17th century art.

Dr. Voss says the picture is "one of the finest specimens of (Piola's) more intimate style."

Very Rare

Theodore Rousseau Jr., curator of paintings of the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York, said works of Piola are "very rare" in the United States but he does not consider the Genovese to be one of the "top" masters.

Silberman, who haunts antique shops and auction galleries in the pursuit of his hobby, found two Rubens paintings at an auction sale on Madison Avenue in New York.

"They were covered with grime and came up as one of the last lots and I bought them for the proverbial song," he recalls. After his successful bid he had them cleaned, and discovered they were unique portraits of the Infanta Isabelle of Spain and Archduke Albert of Austria.

Dr. William Valentiner, then director of Detroit's institute of Art, appraised them at $100,000.

Astonishes Himself

Silberman often astonishes himself with his discoveries.

In the Paris flea market he paid "just a few sous" for the pastel portrait of a haughty young nobleman with a beaked nose.

"Because of the nose and the Order of the Golden Fleece which he wore around his neck, I thought he was one of the Hapsburg kings," Silberman explains.

He took the painting to Archduke Franz Joseph, a direct descendant of the Austrian family who now lives in New York. When he saw the picture the Archduke laughed: "I know one of my great-great-grandfathers when I see him, but this is no Hapsburg."

Instead, the archduke identified the picture as a portrait of Louis XVI. It was done by the court painter Joseph Durplessis at the time when the French monarch was wooing Marie Antoinette.

As such, it is worth a small fortune.

Famous Fruitcake Recipe calls for shortening you pour.....

Wesson Oil

Wesson® Oil

It's a proud moment when you can offer family and friends delectable fruitcake of your very own making. This treasured Wesson recipe makes a dark, moist cake. Easy, too, because you use Wesson Oil—liquid shortening. Wesson pours to measure instantly and stirs in. There's no digging out shortening, no creaming.

Every bite of the cake is filled with fruits and spices and nuts. And it's the matchless delicacy of Wesson that brings out every luscious bit of flavor. Indeed, delicate Wesson Oil is so useful in all baking and frying—many smart women now buy it in the thrifty gallon size.

WESSON FRUITCAKE

It cuts thin without crumbling—stays fresh and moist, so you can make it weeks in advance of serving or sending as gifts.

1 cup Wesson Oil
1½ cups brown sugar (packed in cup)
4 eggs
2 cups sifted all-purpose flour, such as Gold Medal
*1 teaspoon baking powder
*2 teaspoons salt
2 teaspoons cinnamon
2 teaspoons allspice
1 teaspoon cloves
*1 cup pineapple, apple or orange juice
1 cup more sifted flour
1 cup thinly sliced citron
1 cup chopped candied pineapple
1½ cups whole candied cherries
1 cup seeded raisins
1 cup chopped figs
3 cups coarsely chopped nuts

Heat oven to 275° (very slow). Combine Wesson Oil, sugar and eggs; beat vigorously with spoon or electric mixer for 2 minutes. Sift 2 cups of the flour with the baking powder, salt and spices. Stir into the oil mixture alternately with the fruit juice. Mix the other cup of flour with the fruit and nuts. Pour batter over the fruit, mixing thoroughly. Turn into two 8½ x 4½ x 2½-inch loaf pans greased and lined with brown paper.

Place a pan of water on lower oven rack. Bake cakes 2½ to 3 hours. After baking, let cakes stand 15 minutes before removing from pans. Cool thoroughly on racks without removing paper. When cool, remove paper. If desired, cakes can be wrapped in cloth dampened with brandy or wine. Wrap in aluminum foil, store to ripen. For a fancy touch, glaze cakes. An hour or two before slicing, chill cake in the refrigerator.

When using Gold Medal Self-Rising Flour: (1) Omit baking powder and salt; (2) have fruit juice boiling hot when adding; (3) do not add eggs until the mixture has cooled to lukewarm (about ½ hour).*

Cupcakes: Batter may also be poured into 24 paper baking cups set in medium size muffin pans and baked for 1 hour at 275° (very slow).

Glaze: Combine 2 tablespoons brown sugar, 1 tablespoon corn syrup and 2 tablespoons water in saucepan; bring to boil and boil 2 minutes. Brush over tops of cakes. Decorate with candied fruit or marzipan.

Ezra Benson Pen Pal Club Growing 400 Members-A-Day To 4,000 Total

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Ezra Taft Benson Pen Pal Club is growing rapidly. More than 4,000 already have joined, and 400 new members are coming in each day.

You may remember that the secretary of agriculture, in a Cleveland speech on Nov. 23, appealed to the public to send in suggestions for solving the farm problem. Since then, in other speeches, he has made the same appeal.

Well, Benson asked for it. So many letters have rolled in that four Agriculture Department employes have been put to reading Benson's mail.

Underlined

Ernest C. Best Jr., a Benson assistant, said Thursday it works like this:

During the first reading all ideas and suggestions are underlined in red, and put into 10 general categories for further study.

Some, of course, require only one reading. Among these are the letters from pen pals who have no opinions on how to solve the farmers' difficulties, but do have some strong opinions on the secretary.

These, in turn, fall into two classes: (1) Those who say "Go home, Benson," and (2) those who say, "Don't go, Benson, don't go."

175 To 98

Best swears he has given this an honest count, and that from the first 3,300 letters analyzed the pro-Bensons led the anti-Bensons, 175 to 98.

Letters with suggestions are sent along to experts in the fields discussed, such as how to handle acreage allotments, or what can be done to educate the public on agricultureal problems.

Some of these also fall into a pattern, and can be answered immediately.

Others go much further, and it's presumably to these that Benson will pay the closest attention when he gets ready to make his report to President Eisenhower on what he thinks should be done.

The most interesting letters, though, are the ones that don't deal with the farm problem but with Benson.

Once farmers may have blamed or credited the rain for the way the crops looked. In these more complicated times the blame or the credit seems to go to the secretary of agriculture.

Best said both city and country folk have got into the act, and he fished out some letters he said were typical of the anti- and pro-Benson feeling.

From Minneapolis: "I am a strong admirer of you for your devotion to a principle."

From Rapid City, S. D.: "I am one of the ranchers who had to quit due to your farm program."

From Paducah, Ky.: "Don't resign. Help get things right."

From Senecaville, Ohio: "I was raised a Republican and voted for Ike. I am through, and I know many more just like me."

Seventy-eight of the pen pals won't hear from Benson, and apparently didn't want to. They had their say anonymously.

Jet Seaplane Hunks Studied By Probers

PATUXENT NAVAL AIR CENTER, Md. (AP) — An accumulating pile of shredded metal raised from the bottom of Chesapeake Bay may tell why the Navy's new, multi-million-dollar jet bomber blew to pieces in the air.

Divers and surface searchers Thursday found more fragments of the huge SeaMaster which, with four men aboard, exploded during a routine test flight.

One body, attached to a parachute which had been opened by the force of the explosion, was found. It was identified as that of James Hentschel of Baltimore, a testing engineer for the Glenn L. Martin Co. Divers hunted for the other three men listed, at least for the time, as missing.

Two of the missing men were also test experts of the Martin Company, which built the first of what Navy officials have said would be a number of 600-mile-per-hour seaplanes.

Dr. Sam Sheppard Now Is No. 98860 In Ohio Pen

. . . Gets No Special Favors; Asks None

By JOSEPH COLANGELO

COLUMBUS (INS)—Handsome Dr. Sam Sheppard, onetime driver of a bright red foreign sports car, has settled quietly into the gray anonymity of No. 98860 at Ohio State Penitentiary.

"There's nothing special about him whatsoever," said Warden Ralph W. Alvis of the once-successful suburban Cleveland osteopath.

The quiet convict is now destined to spend life, with possible parole in 10 years, behind bars for the hack - murder of his pregnant wife, Marilyn, on July 4 last year.

Dr. Sheppard

There is no sign of the bright lights and emotions that burst out during one of the nation's longest and most publicized trials. The move to the shadows of the boyish face, once plastered on front pages across the nation, has been complete.

Warden Alvis said:

"He can walk across the prison yard and nobody would recognize him."

He receives no special favors and asks none, nor does any member of his family ask favors for him.

Family Co-operative

"They've been extremely co-operative," the warden stated.

He rises at 6:30 a.m. to the screech of the prison guards' whistles and the glare of pen lights flicking on for the day. He's in a 9 x 9 x 7½ foot cell with three other men, all — as he — teachers in the penitentiary's "vocational training school."

He uses the same washbowl as the others, and sleeps in one of the four bunks which fold up against the cell walls when not in use.

He gazes out the same barred window into the same bleak prison "yard" shared by his cellmates and the thousands of other prisoners. His room does not overlook the wall and the street beyond and the "outside." He's on the inside, looking in.

There's nothing in Dr. Sam's daily life today to explain why he receives so much mail from the millions who read about him, telling him they're sure he's innocent or they're sure he's guilty.

Mail Returned

He never sees his mail. It's returned to the senders by the prison censors.

The only persons allowed to write him are the members of his immediate family, close freinds and attorneys. And, he is only allowed to write one letter a week in return, except in special cases when it is "necessary" to correspond with the lawyers.

The Sheppard family visits him about once a month, Warden Alvis said, although he is allowed a visit a week from blood relatives. Dr. Sam hasn't seen his son, Chip, in almost a year. The boy is never taken to the prison.

U.S. Seeks Way To Aid Financing Of Egypt Aswan Dam Project

WASHINGTON (INS) — State Department officials reported Thursday the administration is trying to find ways to help finance the 600 million dollar high Aswan Dam project in Egypt without asking special congressional action.

The department said, however, that it has made no decision on whether to take such action.

The matter was brought up as discussions continued among Egypt, Britain, the United States and the World Bank in an effort to arrange financing for the 18-year construction program.

Russia already has offered to help with a long-term, low-interest loan but Egypt has said it would prefer to get the money from the World Bank even at greater interest rates.

Garden Land

The U.S. wants to find a way to aid Egypt in getting the World Bank loan and perhaps help the Egyptians pay the interest and part of the principal.

Egypt believes the high Aswan Dam on the Nile would permit electrification of the entire country and provide enough irrigation to turn vast areas of arid desert into garden land.

Discussing the situation, State Department spokesman Henry Suydam said: "Conversations are still in progress between the Egyptian delegation in Washington, headed by the finance minister, and the international bank on the one hand and between Egyptian, United States and British authorities on the other."

"No final decision has been reached to ask special legislation from Congress."

At the same time, Suydam said that Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and other U.S. diplomatic officials are continuing their efforts to persuade Egypt and Israel to "conciliate their views to the end that a settlement be achieved."

Answering a question about a report that Dulles urged Israeli Foreign Minister Moshe Sharett to take a less rigid stand on territorial issues, Suydam said: "The matter is a little out of focus. The secretary's talk with Foreign Minister Sharett earlier this week was a continuation of discussions he has had with both sides in an urgent and sincere attempt to create an atmosphere of conciliation."

There has been no hint that U.S. financial aid to Egypt on the high Aswan Dam project is dependent upon a settlement with Israel.

Dulles has said, however, that financial aid would be recommended for both countries by President Eisenhower if they settle the problem of 900,000 Arab refugees from Palestine and agree to permanent borders.

The secretary also said on Tuesday that "immense" benefits would come to both Israel and Egypt if they did settle their differences.

Russ To Resume Freeing Germans

BONN, Germany (AP)—West Germans received the cheering news Thursday night that thousands of their relatives will return home soon from Soviet Russia and Communist Poland.

The Foreign Office said the Russians have promised to resume releasing German war prisoners. Dr. Heinrich Weitz, president of the Red Cross, said Poland has agreed to return 800 to 1,000 Germans a month starting early next year. But the Poles have declined to discuss the release of 715 German war criminals until the Bonn and Warsaw governments establish diplomatic relations, Weitz said.

The Russians notified the Bonn government 600 war prisoners will arrive next Tuesday. They will be the first to return home since Oct. 20 when Moscow suddenly halted the program of returning 9,626 prisoners. They agreed to free all these during Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's visit to Moscow in September.

Reports On Man Holding Hostages Called Erroneous

WHITESBURG, Ky. (AP) — Sheriff Robert Collins said Thursday reports that a former hospital patient had been holding relatives as hostages in a mountain cabin were erroneous.

The sheriff said he visited Randall Collins, a distant cousin, at his home Thursday and "there seemed to be no trouble. Collins was not armed."

Collins, who had been under observation at Eastern State Hospital, Lexington, walked away Sunday while waiting for relatives to take him home. Reports then began circulating that he had taken refuge at the family home at Sackett and was holding his wife, father and mother at gunpoint.

Police Chief Oda L. Amburgey, notified of such reports, alerted State Police. They checked with Sheriff Collins and were told to forget the matter.

Martin's Intuition Says Ike To Run

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Joseph W. Martin Jr., the House minority leader, said Thursday that next March there will be such an irresistible call for President Eisenhower to run again that he cannot refuse.

At a speech before a Republican group Martin said:

"And now for the $64 question: Will Ike run again?"

Yankee Intuition

"I have been 31 years in Congress. I have that Yankee intuition and some ability to foretell what will happen. I think definitely the president will be a candidate again and will be nominated and elected."

Earlier he told newsmen who asked why he thought Eisenhower would run: "Nothing he has said to me argues against his running."

Martin, here for two of several speeches in the Republican strongholds of Florida, said if Adlai Stevenson is the Democratic presidential nominee he will be defeated in Florida by twice the 100,000 votes by which he lost in 1952.

He referred on several occasions to Stevenson's quip at a political science class at the University of Florida that "Yankees and ignorance" were what defeated him in Florida three years ago.

Martin called the remark "thoughtless."

He pitched his talks on the theme: "Why change?" and said if the election is decided at the factory pay window, the corner grocery and in the kitchen then the Republicans are going to score a smashing 1956 victory.

95 Liquor Cases Flown To Germany Bring Reprimand

FUERSTENFELDBRUCK, Germany (AP) — The U.S. Air Force said Thursday night 15 officers have been reprimanded for unlawfully flying 95 cases of untaxed liquor into Germany.

A spokesman said the liquor was brought here "inadvertently," and, when the violation came to the attention of the commanding officer, he turned it over voluntarily to the Germans.

"The Germans kept the whisky and did not fine or charge the officers duty and the matter was satisfactorily settled."

The spokesman said, "The officers were on their way back from North Africa and when they landed at Gibraltar for refueling they found they could buy liquor cheaper there."

To Vote No

NEW YORK (AP) — George V. Melas, Greek ambassador to the United States, said his country will vote against the admission of Albania to the United Nations. He told a luncheon meeting of the Greek-American Lawyers Assn. that Greece takes this position because Albania holds a large number of Greek citizens there "against their will." Albania is one of five Communist countries among 18 nations a special U.N. Political Committee has recommended for admission to the world organization.

Townsend Said Now Courting Dutch Countess

LONDON (INS) — RAF Group Capt. Peter Townsend Thursday was reported without confirmation to have started a new romance after his unsuccessful attempt to marry Princess Margaret.

A London Daily Sketch columnist quoted the Duesseldorf newspaper "Neue Post" as saying that the romance is with a beautiful Dutch-Belgian countess, Aline Van Limburg.

"Peter has found happiness with Countess Aline," the paper was quoted as saying.

"Brussels and Amsterdam social circles say Peter has decided to have a speedy marriage after his love for Princess Margaret came to nothing."

Draft To Drop

HONOLULU (AP)—Navy Secretary Secretary Charles Thomas, arriving on a Pacific tour, said the Navy will draft fewer than the 56,000 men it had planned to induct in 1956.

"Enlistments have been much more than we had expected," Thomas told reporters.

Thomas will leave Saturday night on an inspection tour of Navy and Marine installations in the Far East.

Church Gain Made

NEW YORK (AP) — Membership in the United Lutheran Church increased to 2,206,280 by the first of this year, a rise of 2.93 per cent or 62,908 members over 1954, the church's 1956 yearbook shows.

Potential Power Of Solar Energy Is Great

OTTAWA (AP) — Dr. J. L. Locke, stellar physcist at the Dominion Observatory, predicts solar energy some day will replace natural gas, petroleum and coal. He told a Royal Astronomical Society meeting the sun's rays on a 1½-square mile area in one day equal the energy of the first atomic bomb dropped on Japan, at Hiroshima, in 1945.

Pearson Joins In

OTTAWA (AP) — Canada's Foreign Secretary Lester B. Pearson added his voice to Commonwealth criticism of the Soviet leaders' tour of Burma and India. He said their statements in Asia were "almost insulting to the intelligence of their audiences."

Note How Famous Wonder Bread Compares With Meat, Milk, Fish And Eggs, And Make It One Of The "Foundation" Foods In Your Child's Dietary!

Apart from inherited characteristics, the principal factor in the growth of the normal child is food.

The better the quality, the better the balance of the various food elements, the better the growth of the child.

Thus, you are urged to give your child a well-balanced diet. Which calls for meat, milk, eggs, fruit and both yellow and green-leafed vegetables. And carbohydrate food for energy. Like Wonder Bread.

Wife No. 1 Pleads Innocent To Killing, Burying Wife No. 2

CASPER, Wyo. (AP) — Mrs. Rose Alexander, 42, mother of two, pleaded innocent Thursday to charges she killed her husband's second wife and buried her in the basement of their home July 18, 1953.

The body of Mrs. Barbara Alexander, 27, was found Monday by officers who dug through 4½ inches of concrete to reach the remains.

Rose told a coroner's jury the death of Barbara was accidental. In reply to a question why she failed to report it, she said:

"I was very frightened. It would hurt the children. They would think the worst of me. They wouldn't believe me. The children, it would break their little hearts . . ."

Husband Knew Nothing

James Alexander, 48, former Casper high school instructor now employed at Worland, Wyo., told the jury he knew nothing about his second wife's death until the discovery of her body.

He and Rose were divorced in 1950. They were married Dec. 28, 1933, in Hartford, Conn., where he was on the fire department staff. After the marriage to Barbara, Alexander said Rose came to live with them for about a year.

Alexander said Rose left later and Barbara warned him she would leave too if she found out he ever visited his former wife.

After Barbara disappeared, Alexander said, he assumed she had learned he had been visiting Rose and had carried out her threat.

At the inquest, Rose said Barbara slipped and fell into an enclosed pit at the home. A stack of bricks and concrete blocks, she said, were toppled by a broken banister onto the prone woman, inflicting fatal injuries.

Two days later, she said, she placed the body under a six-inch layer of dirt. The next month Alexander placed a concrete floor in the basement.

Segregated

LOS ANGELES (INS) — Los Angeles Fire Chief John H. Alderson announced that Negro firemen have been transferred to all-Negro fire stations because of possible racial violence.

The fire chief said that the transfers were made Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday because of "threats" following integration of Negro members into previously all white stations.

GI Tent Billets In Korea Anger Army Secretary

WESTERN FRONT, Korea (INS) —Army Secretary Wilbur M. Brucker said Thursday it was "deplorable" that American troops in Korea still live in tents and promised to do something about it.

"Something is going to budge," Brucker declared. "I am just out of patience with that."

The Army secretary made these remarks while touring the western Korean front on the second day of his three-day visit to Korea.

"They have got to have housing for these fellows," Brucker said. "There is no doubt about that."

At the 24th Reconnaissance Company, Brucker inspected tents and termed them "horrible."

Brucker said there was a program to replace all temporary quarters in Korea with permanent constructions.

Bombs Set Off

SINGAPORE (AP)—Fifteen thousand "midget atom bombs" were exploded Thursday in a field near Kuala Lumpur, Malaya.

Police and British troops cordoned the area before starting to destroy the toy pellets, which were impounded by the authorities after similar pellets had killed 11 and injured 33 persons in Malaya this week. At least eight of the dead were children, who bought them as playthings.

At the detonation center, the bombs were exploded in batches of 600. Ordnance experts found any bigger blast dangerous. Large stocks are believed to be still in shopkeepers' hands and a widespread search for them is in progress.

Pranksters

PEORIA, Ill. (INS)—Three East Peoria girls, ages 10, 11 and 12, admitted that they made scores of telephone calls and dispatched merchandise ranging from chicken dinners to a burial vault to an 80-year-old woman.

The three girls, whose names were withheld, told Peoria Juvenile Bureau officers they picked the woman's name out of the phone book at random and had been calling her since Oct. 1.

Victim of the prank was identified as Cora B. Moblo. Police and Illinois Bell Telephone Co. officials traced a call to the home of the 10-year-old girl. She told them it was her first call and implicated the two older girls.

Double Trouble

DUBLIN (INS)—A New York-to-Rome Italian airliner, carrying 29 passengers and a crew of ten, ran into double trouble Thursday.

Two engines cut out over the Atlantic, forcing it to land at Shannon on the remaining two.

The landing caused two tires to burst. The passengers were shaken up as the plane came to a sudden halt.

Curtis Foresees A Busy Session

MINDEN, Neb. (AP)—Sen. Carl T. Curtis (R-Neb) predicted Thursday that the coming session of Congress will be one of the busiest of any peace time session.

The Nebraska Senator said he forsees considerable controversy over many proposals.

Looking toward the new session Curtis said he thinks "there is a fair chance that some constructive agricultural legislation will be enacted that will better the situation for our farmers. It is true that in a political year there will be a lot of talk and some extreme views expressed. I feel, however, that a sizeable group in the Senate will disregard partisanship and apply themselves to the problem of agriculture."

Curtis said he also will work for Nebraska interests in the decentralization of industry and is re-writing "my constitutional amendment to compel the government to go on a pay-as-you-go basis in peacetime. Our government should begin living within its income without further delay. We ought to begin now to reduce our debt," he said.

Curtis was to attend the meeting of the South Platte United Chambers of Commerce here Thursday night, speak to the Republican Women of Richardson County Friday night and meet with Omaha broadcasters Saturday morning.

Saturday afternoon he will be invested with the degree of Knight Commander of the Court of Honor by Scottish Rite Masons.

Curtis leaves for Washington Saturday night to begin preparations for the new session of Congress.

NU Grad Makes More Discoveries To Add To Long List Of Patents

A former Lincolnite and graduate of the University of Nebraska who made headlines with research developments during the war has recently added to his long list of discoveries.

Sarbach

Donald V. Sarbach, son of Mrs. Margaret Sarbach of 1234 K, and a University graduate of 1934, was a developer during the war of a glueing cement which was used for cementing a rubber lining in bomber gas tanks to make them non-leaking when perforated by gunfire.

His more recent achievements include the development of an airporus vinyl coated fabric for upholstery and sportswear, a high-temperature insulating material for rockets and guided missiles, and a liner for the tubeless tire.

He has also done extensive deber and plastics, including the new ber and palstics, including the new polyurethane plastic expected to become an important factor in the foam cushioning field.

All told, during 18 years with B. F. Goodrich Co. at Akron O., Sarbach has been awarded 30 patents on various chemical and rubber products and chemical processes. There he was general manager of the chemical laboratories and more recently technical manager of new industrial products development.

Sarbach has recently been appointed to the newly-created position of research director of Hewitt-Robins, Stamford, Conn., and will serve additionally with technical and research departments in manufacturing plants at Buffalo, Passaic, Fremont and Chicago.

He is a member of Phi Lambda Upsilon and Alpha Chi Sigma, honorary and professional chemistry fraternities, American Chemical Society and American Rocket Society.

He is also a 32nd degree Mason, a Chevalier of the Order of DeMolay, and advisor to 260 boys in DeMolay.

Sarbach's wife is the former Ruth Wimberly of Lincoln, datighter of Prof. and Mrs. L. C. Wimberly.

"Heh, heh! I remember you from last year, there'll be no beard-pulling this time!"

NUMBER OF POLIO SHOTS UP TO DOCTORS—ROUSE

It'll be up to Nebraska doctors to decide for themselves whether to spread the Salk polio vaccine supply by giving single shots, or whether to give each child patient the full three-shot series, a State Health Department source said.

"We are not dictating to the medical profession," said Alan Rouse, director of the department's polio vaccine program.

A committee of experts in Washington recommended Wednesday that the three-shot plan be continued.

Heavy pressure for the vaccine has developed among Nebraska doctors and the available supply to far is relatively meager.

First Nebraska shipments of vaccine under the federal government's grant-in-aid program went out to individual doctors Wednesday night.

Shipping orders as of Thursday totaled about 25,000 cc's of the free government vaccine but word arrived Wednesday night that another shipment of 8,700 cc's from the Eli Lilly Co., Indianapolis, is en route.

The new shipment, coupled with about 29,000 cc's of vaccine which Nebraska doctors have received through commercial channels, will bring the total to some 92,000 cc's.

U.N. General Assembly OKs 18 New Members—Veto Eyed

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—By a thumping majority the U.N. General Assembly Thursday approved simultaneous admission of 18 new countries. But a possible big power veto in the Security Council still threatened the entire package deal.

Applause rippled through the big hall after President Jose Maza of Chile announced the 52-2 vote in favor of seeking a favorable recommendation from the Security Council on breaking the long-existing membership deadlock.

As in the Political Committee yesterday, only China and Cuba voted against the package deal. The United States, Belgium, France, Greece and Israel abstained.

Saturday Set

The U.N. announced that Saturday morning had been set for a Council meeting.

The big question was whether Nationalist China would veto the application of Outer Mongolia one of the five Communist states seeking membership. The Soviet Union has said it will accept 18 states or none.

Dr. T. F. Tsiang, the Chinese delegate, was under ever increasing pressure to at least abstain in the Security Council, but aides said he was determined to block the application of Outer Mongolia by any necessary steps.

Veto Can Kill

A Council recommendation must obtain approval of seven of the 11 members, but a veto by any one of the five permanent members would kill it. The United States, France, Britain, China and the Soviet Union make up the five.

Canada's Paul Martin, who played a leading role in obtaining agreement of 28 nations to sponsor the package deal move, lauded the United States for announcing it would abstain on the five Communist applicants in the Security Council.

Martin said the way was now open to others to "make possible to realize the dream" of giving so many countries the right "to take their place in the only existing parliament of man."

Martin voiced the opinion "this constructive proposal will succeed."

Closest In 10 Years

Maza hailed the Assembly action as one that "brings us near, for the first time in ten years," to a solution of the membership problem.

For the Security Council he had these words:

"May I also avail myself of this moment to express my hope that the Security Council will receive this manifestation with the greatest understanding and that, in the discharge of its high functions, it will give the most serious attention to the resolution of the Assembly as promptly as present circumstances require."

Two Suits Against Annexation Filed

OMAHA (AP) — Two suits to halt annexation of land outside the Omaha city limits are on file in District Court.

One tract involves 2,509 acres with a population of 5,582 and the other 724 acres with a population of 1,169. Both are northwest of the city limits.

The suits contend the areas will not benefit by annexation and are rural in character. The annexation ordinance, covering six tracts, is scheduled to be effective Jan. 1. Three other suits are expected.

300 More Seek Work Than In '54

. . . In This Area

The labor supply in the Lincoln area registered with the State Employment Service on Dec. 1 was 300 more than a year ago.

The 20 per cent increase in the labor supply during November was normal for this time of the year, the Employment Service said in its monthly report.

The 1,031 job openings employers listed during November were 300 less than the previous months but 206 more than November, 1954.

Of 1,285 workers referred to employers for interviews, 975 were hired.

Manufacturing Demand Up

Manufacturing had the greatest demand for workers during the month, with wholesale and retail trade second and contract construction dropping to third.

Labor demand in their industries followed the normal seasonal pattern, the report said.

Total employment in manufacturing was down 100 workers and all categories of construction were down 300 workers in November.

A seasonal cut-back in transportation and utilities moved employment down 50 workers.

Trade was up 400 workers, mostly because of hiring in retail general merchandise for the holiday buying season.

Service industries employment went up 100 as public schools hired additional staff members with the completion of added facilities in building programs.

November also brought the seasonal close-down in the larger poultry processing plants in the Crete, Seward and York area.

The region covered by the Employment Service report includes Lancaster, Saline, Seward, Fillmore and York Counties.

Kiddie Car Give-Away 'Not Lottery'

. . . Claims Brief

The Grant Chevrolet Co. of Fremont told the State Supreme Court Thursday its plans to give away a couple of kiddie cars to lucky youngsters did not constitute a lottery under Nebraska law.

True enough, the plan involved a "prize" and "chance," the firm said in a brief filed with the court. But it lacked the third element essential to a lottery, namely "consideration."

The Dodge County District Court had enjoined Kenneth Grant and Elno Grant of Fremont, doing business as the Grant Chevrolet Co., from giving away the kiddie cars and the Grants have appealed.

Outcome of the case is expected to provide additional interpretation of the state's lottery laws.

As the brief related it, the firm was showing new car models. As part of the display, a miniature kiddie convertible was set up in which children could simulate driving. At the conclusion of the showing two of these kiddie cars were to be given away to two children whose names were to be drawn from a list of those who had registered on a card and dropped the card into a box during the showing.

"It is our firm opinion," the brief said, "that the Legislature that passed the so-called lottery act never contemplated or intended that it would be stretched to cover a situation such as this."

Colin Kelly's Son Is Set To Attend U.S. Academy

NEW YORK (INS) — Colin Kelly III, the 15-year-old son of the World War II air hero, decided Thursday he wants to follow in his father's footsteps.

But he hasn't decided "whether I ought to go to West Point or to the new Air Academy out in Colorado."

The boy, who was recommended for a West Point appointment by the late President Franklin Roosevelt shortly after his hero-father's plane crashed off the Philippines, spoke of his ambitions on the 14th anniversary of Pearl Harbor.

Wheat Growers Favor Overall Parity Plan

McCOOK, Neb. (AP) — Nebraska wheat growers plugged for a plan whereby 25 per cent of an individual farm might be taken out of production with financial inducement to make the withdrawal voluntary.

The Wheat Growers Assn. convention went on record as favoring an overall domestic parity program rather than a program of 90 per cent of parity on high grade wheat and lower supports on lower grades as suggested by as association committee.

The domestic parity program is based on the theory of giving the producer parity purchasing rights on the part of his crop he sells for domestic food use.

Want Research

Another resolution approved a basic research program by the University of Nebraska as a means of improving the state's wheat crop.

C. H. Kraeder, Kimball, was re-elected association president with Carl Bruns, Chappell, returned as vice president.

The association urged there be no penalties for surplus production when the surplus is stored by the grower at his own expense or used for feed.

Pilot Is Unhurt As Light Plane Is Forced Down

OMAHA (AP) — A single engine Cessna plane, eastbound, made an emergency landing without incident 4½ miles southwest of Yutan about 12:45 p.m. Thursday, the Civil Aeronautics Administration reported.

The pilot was alone in the plane which was from Lake Forest, Ill., the CAA said.

An alert was ordered when the pilot, a man named Alderidge, messaged the control tower here that he was running out of gas.

A few minutes later he reported by radio he was down safely and would take off again as soon as he got some fuel.

There was no damage to the plane or injury to the pilot.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Call For Cupid

DECATUR, Ill. (AP) — Assistant Postmaster Ralph J. Turner is confronted with a problem only Cupid can solve. He received a letter from a 59-year-old Blytheville, Ark., World War I veteran who wrote: "I am lonesome and need the companionship of a wife." The writer offered to pay for an advertisement in the newspapers, but Turner said that was a little out of his line.

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP)—Geoffrey Hobday, conductor of the Charleston Symphony Orchestra, was making his dramatic debut in a community players production of "Dial M for Murder." Hobday was born in Birmingham, Eng., and has been in America only about three years.

Huskers Clash Tonight With Tall Texas Tech

By DON BRYANT
Sports Editor, The Star

Nebraska's 1955-56 basketball team opens its home season tonight at 8 p.m., entertaining the Texas Tech Red Raiders at the Coliseum.

The Huskers made an impressive debut last week when they bowed to Iowa, 60-51, after a spirited fight that was witnessed by a national television audience.

Hawkeye height was a big factor in the loss and the same problem will confront Coach Jerry Bush's troops Friday night.

Texas Tech, co-champions of the Border Conference, is a big team and is led by 6-8 Jim Carpenter. Also on hand is Jim Reed, a 6-4 forward who was on Helm's third-team All-American squad last year. He scored 558 points last season.

Carpenter tallied 363 points during the 1954-55 campaign. Other "big boys" on the Texas club are Underwood, 6-4, and Walt (Tiny) Newton, 6-1.

The Cornhuskers will be heightshy, but Bush's "moving" style of play is expected to compensate this disadvantage.

Bush will start a lineup that will, if possible, include Soph Don Smidt who did a fine job at Iowa. Smidt, 6-4, has been hobbled with a sprained ankle. If he can't go, the forward job will be given to 6-9 Jim Thom, another soph.

Other Husker starters are Chuck Smith, 6-1, the NU co-captain, at forward; Rex Ekwall, 6-4, a junior at center; and two more sophomores, Jim Kubacki, 5-10, and Gary Reimers, 5-11, at guards.

Kubacki made a big hit with his rebounding and shooting against Iowa.

Bush and his aid, Tony Sharpe, scouted Texas Tech against Missouri (the Tigers won), but he relates the Red Raiders "had a bad night."

"They used their first team only about five minutes," Jerry says. "Missouri caught them with a couple of fast breaks and they never could recover. They are much better than their record (1-3)."

Bush reports the Texans rely heavily on a lot of pattern work that "involves setting up triple blocks." (To a laymen this means, "You have to see it to believe it.)

Anyway, in addition to his starters Bush is counting on a great deal of help from Norm Coufal, Bob Mercier, Lyle Nannen and Jim Arwood.

"And Billy Wells has been looking real good in practice and will provide us with some outside protection," Jerry says.

Nebraska will be the fourth Big Seven team Texas Tech has met this week. The Texans have lost to Missouri, Kansas State and Iowa State.

For the Huskers, Friday night's home curtain-raiser will be the first of a hectic three-game weekend scramble.

Following the game Friday night the Cornhuskers will board a train for Chicago. There they will grab a plane to Ann Arbor, Mich., arriving in time for a short afternoon workout. Saturday night Nebraska plays the University of Michigan at 7:30.

Michigan has an 0-1 record, losing to Pittsburgh.

Sunday the squad will fly to Wichita, Kan., and work out in preparation for Monday night's game with Wichita U., slated for 8:30 p.m.

Wichita has lost a pair of games, first to Utah and then to Kansas.

Texans Beaten By Iowa State

AMES (AP)—Iowa State used liberal hot streaks Thursday night to defeat Texas Tech 72-52. Gary Thompson, Iowa State guard, was high with 21 points for the Cyclones.

Thompson, however was outclassed in the scoring department by Tech's forward Jim Reed who collected 12 points in each half.

Reed helped close the gap against the Cyclones at the end of the first half which gave Iowa State a 35-32 lead. But Tech went cold after the intermission and never recovered.

Boys Town, Bearcat Go Tops Slate

By RON GIBSON
Star Sports Staff Member

Boys Town's visit to Scottsbluff and the opening of the Big Ten East and West Division races highlight the week end state high school basketball program.

Boys Town will open its season at Scottsbluff Friday night and will play the Bearcats again Saturday. Boys Town figures strongly in the 1956 championship picture, and defending champ Scottsbluff is considered a title possibility also.

Fremont, the Big Ten East kingpin last year, plays Hastings Saturday. North Platte is at McCook Saturday in a West Division scrap.

The choices in the leading games:

FRIDAY

Scottsbluff over Boys Town—Bearcats have two big wins under their belts.

Grand Island over Lexington—Islanders open with a bang.

Northeast over Southeast—Too much Rocket height.

Creighton Prep over Benson—Dick Harvey must have help.

Omaha Tech over North—Tech bounces back.

Minden over Kearney—Class B champs get rolling.

Others: Hastings over Holdrege, Omaha South over Thomas Jefferson, Wahoo over Bellevue, Ashland over Blair, Columbus over Omaha Westside, Ord over Gothenburg, Crete over Nebraska City, Norfolk over Wayne, Chadron over Gordon, Columbus St. Bonaventure over Schuyler, McCook over Sidney, Gering and Minatare.

SATURDAY

Southeast over Beatrice—To gain split in Mid-East play.

Boys Town over Scottsbluff—Even break in series.

Lincoln over Fairbury—Links hit win column again.

University over Holy Name—If Tutors are hot again.

Fremont over Hastings—In bid for repeat title.

North Platte over McCook—Bull Dogs strong.

Others: Abraham Lincoln over Creighton Prep, Omaha South over Tech, Cozad over Alliance, Columbus over Central City, Ogallala over Chappell.

Champ Olson Rated 3-1 Betting Choice In Sugar Ray's 'All Or Nothing' Bout

By JACK HAND

CHICAGO (AP) — Sugar Ray Robinson's comeback reaches the "all or nothing" stage tonight when the former welterweight and middleweight champ faces Bobo Olson, current middleweight king, in a 15-round title match at Chicago Stadium.

Although 35-year-old Sugar Ray, a dancing dandy in his heyday, may be the sentimental favorite to those who fondly recall his boxing skill, the hard money in the betting marts has made Olson a 3-1 choice. If Robinson wins, he'll be the first ever to recapture the 160-pound title twice.

Because Robinson is on display and a title hangs in the balance, the radio-television sponsors are coughing up $75,000 so that the bout may be heard and seen on network (NBC) broadcasts. Chicago and a 150-mile area, however, will be blacked out on TV to help the gate. The fight starts at 9 p.m. (CST).

Truman Gibson, secretary of the promoting International Boxing Club, talks of a crowd of 12,000 and a gate of $150,000. More conservative estimates put the crowd figure at 9,000 and the gate at about $130,000.

Olson gets 35 per cent, five per cent under the usual champion's cut, and Robinson gets 25 per cent of gate receipts and television money. Olson could wind up with about $65,000 and Robinson about $45,000 in welcome ready cash. If Robinson wins, there reportedly is a rematch clause for a return bout within 90 days.

Until the 27-year-old Olson ventured out of his class to box Archie Moore for the light-heavy crown, June 18, he was becoming a superman with the TV audiences. Wehn Moore stopped him in three rounds he became an ordinary mortal. In two starts since the Moore knockout, Olson has been something less than sensational. After an ordinary performance against Jimmy Martinez, he was hard pressed to win over Joey Giambra, Aug. 26, his last outing. Both were non-title matches. In fact, balding Bobo hasn't defended his championship since he stopped Pierre Langlois at San Francisco last Dec. 15.

Olson won his crown by beating Randy Turpin in New York, Oct. 21, 1953 as the final of an elimination series after Robinson announced his retirement, Dec. 18, 1952. He took care of challengers Kid Gavilan, Rocky Castellani and Langlois last year.

It has been difficult to detect traces of the old Robinson speed and flash in his six comeback fights. Ralph (Tiger) Jones, busy Yonkers, N. Y. middleweight, almost chased him back into retirement when he handed the Sugar man a bad beating while winning a decision in 10 rounds at Chicago, Jan. 19.

Intra-City Go Tonight Pits Rockets, Knights

GAMES TONIGHT

Northeast	at Southeast (8 p.m.)

GAMES SATURDAY

Lincoln High	at Fairbury
Uni High	at Omaha HN
Beatrice	at Southeast (8 p.m.)

By RON SPEER
Star Sports Staff Member

Knights are usually known for their battles against dragons, or for saving damsels in distress.

But the Knights of Coach Rex Mercer's roundtable at Southeast High have a different battle in store for them tonight.

Southeast's objective will be to handcuff a quintet of Rockets from Northeast in the first intra-city scrap of the season.

And hobbling the Rockets could be quite a chore.

Northeast Coach Ed Johnson will field three of the top players in the area. Rudy Stoehr, Duane Steffen and Wayne Hester are the nucleus of the Rockets' bid for a winning year.

Stoehr registered 22, Hester 13 and Steffen 11 in a losing overtime battle against last year's state championship team, Scottsbluff, in the Rocket opener.

Southeast also has a game under its belt, a win over Wilber. Jack Harvey and Dick Madden took scoring honors with eight each as the Knights suffered from an opening-night cold streak.

Despite Southeast's surplus of letterman — eight — the Rockets look like the team to beat in the Capital City and should handle the Knights tonight.

Cathedral, the only other local team scheduled tonight, journeys north to meet Norfolk Sacred Heart.

The date was previously set for Thursday night, but a conflict forced the switch.

The Bluebirds are currently batting .500 with a win over Omaha Sacred Heart and a nip-and-tuck loss to Concordia of Seward.

Coach Vince Aldrich said he plans to use the same team that started the previous games.

Three games are set for Lincoln teams Saturday night. University High travels to Omaha Holy Name, Lincoln High plays at Fairbury and Southeast entertains Beatrice.

The Links will carry a 1-1 record into the Fairbury tilt. They whipped Fremont in the opener, then lost to Scottsbluff a night later.

Brian Etheridge, tall Link sophomore, won't be in the Lincoln High lineup because of an injured leg, but we'll pick the Links to win a close one.

University High's hopes for a win at Holy Name were boosted when the seemingly invincible Ramblers were dropped in their opener by St. Bon's of Columbus.

Holy Name had a 23-game winning streak last year during its waltz to the Class A title.

The Tutors probably won't be as torrid as they were when they smothered Blair Tuesday night, but we expect their well-balanced attack to operate smoothly and hand Holy Name its second setback.

Southeast may be a mite tuckered out Saturday against Beatrice following the expected thriller with Northeast tonight. But many of the Knight cagers also played football, and they could get revenge for a football defeat by tripping the Orangemen on the court.

Peru Wins Third Straight, 78-60

PERU — The Peru Bobcats racked up their third win of the season against no losses Thursday night, defeating South Dakota Wesleyan, 78-60.

Peru broke on top and was never threatened, piling up a 31-26 first half lead.

Bob Kramer scored 21 points to lead the winners, while Gordon Fossness and George Smith also made 21 each to spark the losers.

Campy Edges 'The Duke' As National Loop MVP

By MURRAY ROSE

NEW YORK (AP)—Catcher Roy Campanella, who made a tremendous comeback to lead the Brooklyn Dodgers to another pennant and their first World Series victory, Thursday was named the National League's Most Valuable Player for 1955 after a close battle with teammate Duke Snider.

By the narrow margin of five points, the stocky, 34-year-old receiver nosed out the Duke, 226 to 221, to become the second player in league history to win the prized award three times. Stan Musial, the great St. Louis Cardinal outfielder, received the honor in 1943, 1946 and 1948.

Campanella won it previously in 1951 and 1953.

Two Shining Stars

Only two other shining stars of the league ever won this distinction more than once. They were Rogers Hornsby in 1925 and 1929 and Carl Hubbell in 1933 and 1936.

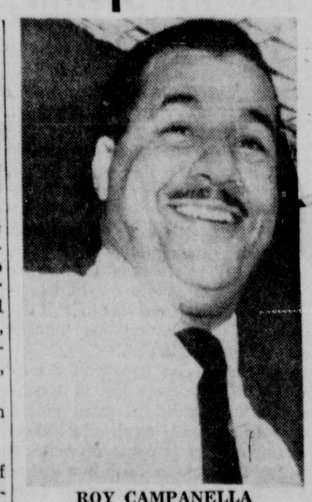
Thus Campy joins another outstanding current catcher, Yogi Berra of the New York Yankees, among the ultra elite of the game.

Just five days ago Berra was picked as the American League's most valuable for 1955 and that was the third time, too, for the hard-hitting Yankee catcher. Two others, Joe DiMaggio and Jimmy Foxx, also won the AL's award three times.

Ernie Banks, the home-run hitting shortstop of the Chicago Cubs, was a close third in the National League with 195 points in the voting of the 24 committeemen of the Baseball Writers Assn. of America. Three writers from each of the eight major league cities participated in the annual poll. Each writer named 10 men in order.

Mays Was Fourth

Willie Mays, the New York Giants outfield whiz who won the award for 1954, was fourth with 165 points followed by pitcher Robin Roberts of the Philadelphia Phillies, 159; Ted Kluszewski, Cincinnati's slugging first baseman, 111; Brooklyn pitcher Don Newcombe, 89, and Musial, 46.



ROY CAMPANELLA

Fourteen points were given for first place ballot, nine for second, eight for third, and so on.

Doane Rally Tips Omaha U, 79-64

OMAHA (AP)—Doane broke a 58-all tie with 6½ minutes to play and went on to hand Omaha University a 79 to 64 basketball defeat Thursday night.

It was the third loss in four starts for Omaha. Don Vyhnolek led Doane with a 29 point performance, hitting often from the side. Stan Schaetzle was tops for Omaha with 20 points.

Sports Editor, The Star

Most Nebraskans were happy this week after it became apparent that Pete Elliott would be the man to pick up the football coaching reins. But how about Oklahomans?

John Cronley of the Daily Oklahoman serves as our interpreter. Uncle John is a Husker alum and undoubtedly tickled that his alma mater made a good choice. But he's a dyed-in-the-wool Sooner, too, and he hates to see the Big Red lose a good thing.

We'll toss out a few samples of Husker-Sooner Cronley's potent pen:

"The Huskers are to be congratulated for the sensible, forthright manner in which they conducted their business with Oklahoma and Pete Elliott, who will formally accept the head coaching job at NU, once the Sooner game with Maryland is history.

"Rather than go dashing off in all directions in a maze of confusion while filling the scene with endless candidates for Bill Glassford's vacated post, the Huskers went straight to the point with the only young man they considered.

"Nebraska has said Elliott is its one and only choice and it is much too fine an opportunity for Pete to ignore. His schooling under Bud Wilkinson is complete, there is nothing left to wait for.

"Few young men will tackle such an assignment with the expressions of good luck which will emanate from both sides of the fence.

"Verily Oklahoma's loss is Nebraska's huge gain . . . If coaching, organizational and administrative ability, plus pleasing personality and plain old elbow grease will get the job done at Lincoln, Elliott is the man to turn the trick.

"Now is the time for Nebraska to forget all of the heartaches and headaches since its last success in 1940.

"Now is the time for the Huskers to get behind Elliott with every shoulder to the wheel, with Pete bound to bring not only proven coaching ability but a bright new outlook into the picture.

"It is the big break that was bound to come for the rising young teacher.

"It's a nice bounce for Nebraska — yes, and a good thing for Oklahoma's schedule, with a brand new coaching rivalry to spice up the conference campaign."

Cronley's tribute to Pete adds more and more luster to Athletic Director Bill Orwig's selection. Nebraska football fans can look forward to the new year with great hope. It will take hard work on everyone's part, but it should be an enjoyable task.

Husker Track Coach Frank Sevigne's program is already paying off — in numbers, anyway.

It's too early to tell the quality of the Nebraska thinclads this year, but at last there are a lot of boys taking part in the sport.

Sevigne figures he has "about 55 real prospects," with several more part-time aspirants working out. There are 25 active freshmen and 28 active varsity tracksters, a far cry from former years when only a handful showed up for the cinder sport.

Numbers are essential in any sport. The more boys out for track the better the competition and there's always a chance of picking up a few points by loading every event.

But there's also news of quality on the Nebraska track team. Sprinter Keith Gardner, a freshman from Jamaica, has turned the indoor 220 in :23.9 — "A remarkable feat," to quote Sevigne.

Soph vaulter Bernie Randolph of Lincoln cleared 13-2 the other evening, and he wasn't wearing spikes just warm-up shoes.

"It's going to take a lot of hard work, but we're going to improve," Sevigne says confidently.

And there certainly are indications that he's right.

Football Interest High Despite Practice Limit

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
The Associate Press

A few years ago the 400 or so member colleges of the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. voted, after considerable deliberation, to put definite limits on the time devoted to out-of-season practice in football and basketball.

The rule reads that pre-season football practice may not start before Sept. 1 or two weeks before the start of classes, whichever is earlier; that college teams are limited to 10 contests (including scrimmages against outside opposition), and that post-season (winter or spring) practice is limited to 20 sessions in a period of 36 calendar days.

Now that these restrictions have been given time to take full effect, The Associated Press included a question in its annual post-season football survey on whether these restrictions made football poorer or less interesting in 1955.

The concensus answer: Poorer, possibly; less interesting, certainly not. Competition is the important thing.

A majority of the 149 sports writers and broadcasters agreed that football is the same exciting game it was before the limits were instituted and that if the quality of play is down the ordinary fan doesn't notice it. Most of them didn't notice it themselves although about 20 of the 95 "no" answers were qualified in one way or another. Only 37 replies were listed in the "yes" column, three said 1955 football was even more interesting than before and a couple thought play was better.

At least a dozen made an exception in case of the Ivy League, which banned all spring football practice a couple of years ago. They said that measure has hurt Ivy football both in quality and interest and one commented:

"I am distressed that the East has allowed its game to dwindle to such a state of resurgent adolescence."

'55 Football Scoring Title To Jim Swink

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The touchdowns tell that it's true what Texans have been saying all season about Jim Swink.

The speedster from Rusk, Tex., who entered Texas Christian University on a basketball scholarship and was converted to football, was officially crowned as 1955 major college football scoring champion Thursday through the NCAA Service Bureau statistics.

These figures showed that Swink collected 125 points on 20 touchdowns and 5 conversions to lead the way both in scoring and "touchdown responsibility."

Runner-up Jon Arnett of Southern California ran for 15 touchdowns and added 18 extra points for a 108-point total. Defending champion Art Luppino of Arizona tallied 96 points to finish in a three-way tie for third place with Tom McDonald of Oklahoma and Ed Vereb of Maryland.

Vereb, who scored 16 touchdowns and passed for two more, was second to Swink in touchdown responsibility and Bob Hardy of Kentucky ran for nine and passed for eight to take third. All of Swink's touchdowns came on running plays, six of them more than half the length of the field.

Swink, the first Southwest Conference player to win the scoring title since Joel Hunt in 1927, joined an illustrious list of 20-touchdown scorers. The only players in 35 years to make more than 20 were Ken Strong, Gene McEver, Bobby Reynolds, Wilton (Whizzer) White, Ollie Matson and Luppino.

Hugh Pollard of TCU, the mop-up man after most of Swink's scoring splurges, made the most conversions, 25 of 31 attempts. Tennessee's Tom Priest was the most accurate point-after kicker, making good on 15 straight.

The scoring leaders:

	TDs	PAT	FG	TP
1. Swink, TCU	20	5	0	125
2. Arnett, So. Calif.	15	18	0	108
3. McDonald, Oklahoma	16	0	0	96

Knapple New NSAA Head

F. Y. Knapple of Omaha was announced as the chairman of the Nebraska State Activities Association to conclude the Association meeting in Lincoln Thursday night.

W. L. Zoran of Gothenberg was announced as the vice-chairman.

A proposal to change the present four class track classification to a six-class system was tabled by the group. A revised starting date for prep football teams was adopted.

The change will set the opening grid practice date back a week in 1959 and 1960.

The group approved a proposal that interscholastic boxing be prohibited.

The present six-class basketball classification will remain the same.

Golden Gloves Tournament Set

Dates for the Southeastern Nebraska Golden Glove Boxing Tournament has been set for Feb. 3 and 4 at the State Fairgrounds Arena.

The tourney will again be sponsored by the Lincoln American Legion Post No. 3. The Post will sponsor two free boxing programs at the Fairgrounds prior to the Gloves. They are set for Dec. 17 and Jan. 10.

Twelve fighters are currently working out at the free training club at 15th and O. Approximately 15 Lincoln Air Force Base boxers also use the facilities for training.

Nashua Is Named American Horse Racing Champ Of 1955

By GENE PLOWDEN

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Belair Stud's Nashua Thursday night was named American Horse Racing Champion of 1955.

The Thoroughbred Racing Assn.'s board of selectors, made up of 21 secretaries of 40 tracks throughout the country, made the choice. It came as no surprise that Nashua was picked, since the colt earlier was named 3-year-old champion and was 2-year-old titleholder in 1954.

Nashua's latest honor was announced at the annual TRA dinner and a trophy was presented to the great thoroughbred's trainer, Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons.

"The TRA selection of Nashua as 1955 champion gives me one of my greatest thrills, and I certainly think Nashua deserves the honor," Fitzsimmons said.

Proud And Grateful

"I feel proud and grateful for myself, the late Mr. (William) Woodward and the horse. I consider Nashua the best horse I ever trained—better than Gallant Fox or Johnstown.

"I'd like to see Nashua continue to race as a 4-year-old, which was the intention of Mr. Woodward before his death, and retirement to stud he planned for the colt for 1957."

Nashua won 6 of 8 races as a 2-year-old and triumphed in 10 of 12 starts this year, including seven with $100,000 or more in gross money. His 1955 earnings of $752,550 set a new record for a race horse and made his total winnings $945,415, second only to Citation's $1,085,760.

Nashua, ordered sold by executors of Woodward's estate, might be worth half a million or even a million dollars, according to Fitzsimmons.

"He's worth whatever a man wants to pay for him," the veteran trainer said. "Of course, nobody knows what his stud value is."

Champion Filly Named

Misty Morn, from the Wheatley Stable of Mrs. H. C. Phipps, was named champion 3-year-old filly, giving Fitzsimmons two winners for the second consecutive year.

Hometown Paper Says Team Deserves Defeat

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—The Jackson Daily News said editorially Thursday that Jones County Junior College deserves a stinging defeat in the Little Rose Bowl because it agreed to play against Negro football players.

Jones JC meets Compton JC of California Saturday in the junior college classic.

"If the Jones junior college team meets with a stinging defeat it will not cause any mourning in their home state," Major Frederick Sullens said in the front-page editorial.

The decision to play the "team having five Negroes in its line-up, is the most unfortunate thing that has happened in connection with the segregation question since that infamous ruling of the U.S. Supreme Court was rendered," Sullens said.

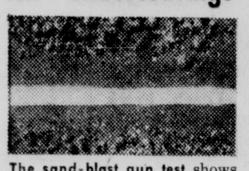
MOTOR NOISES, ROAD RUMBLE, FLYING GRAVEL

See how 3M Rubberized "UNDERSEAL" gives you a safer ride...a quieter ride!

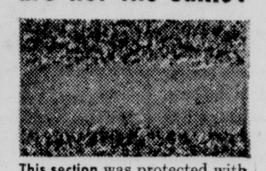
ROAD NOISES, squeaks and rattles are permanently hushed . . . "quiet as a cloud" riding pleasure is attained . . . when a full 1/8" coating of genuine rubberized "UNDERSEAL" is applied to the vulnerable underbody area.

MOTOR NOISES are quieted for keeps . . . motor fumes are banned . . . when "UNDERSEAL" is applied to hood and around the motor area. Remember, "UNDERSEAL" bonds permanently to the metal . . . stays on!

All "undercoatings" are not the same!



The sand-blast gun test shows how ordinary undercoatings wear away, leaving underbody metal exposed. This fender metal was coated with black asphalt undercoating. Nine passes with the gun tore the coating right off the metal.



This section was protected with "UNDERSEAL" rubberized coating. After thirty passes with the sand-blast gun "UNDERSEAL" was still on the job. That's tougher punishment than your car gets—but "UNDERSEAL" can take it!

Don't accept substitutes . . . insist on 3M "UNDERSEAL!"

Poised Nebraska Soph Starred As Prepster

Basketball fans who parked themselves in front of their "watching machines" (to quote an illustrious young comedian) and viewed the Nebraska-Iowa game last Saturday probably don't need much of an introduction to Jim Kubacki, 19-year-old Husker Sophomore guard from Toledo, Ohio.

Kubacki turned in such a poised exhibition against the Hawkeyes that many sportswriters and fans thought he was a veteran college performer. In that Iowa game, Kubacki scored nine points and grabbed seven rebounds, third high for the Huskers. According to "Kuba", many of those rebounds came his way with the help of Lady Luck. Nebraska fans will get their first glimpse of Kubacki in person when the Huskers entertain Texas Tech Friday, beginning at 8 p.m., in the coliseum.

Kubacki came to Nebraska through the efforts of Coach Jerry Bush, whom Jim believes is the best college basketball coach in the country. In fact, Jim's greatest thrill is playing for Bush. In Toledo, where Bush coached before coming here last year, Jim attended as many of the Toledo University home games as possible.

Jim likes all sports, with basketball and baseball high on the list. He has a outstanding background, sportswise, having prepped at Macomber High School in Toledo. While at Macomber he earned nine letters in basketball, baseball and bowling.

His sports antics also earned him many honors throughout the state. As a cager in addition to being a two-year regular, he was named to the Toledo All-City team his senior year and was chosen the outstanding City League player at the same time. He also won a berth on the Ohio All-State second team lineup.

Kubacki collected over 400 points his senior year to cop the city scoring title, leading Macomber to the city championship. His team went to the regional finals before losing.

"Kuba" also doubles in baseball and plans to take up that sport here, too. He won Ohio All-State honors for his play at second base.

He's a 170 bowler and had the highest game score in the City League in 1953-54—a 265.

Jim majors in physical education and has no definite plans upon graduation.

As for the 1955-'56 Husker cage squad, Jim believes, "We've got a very well-balanced squad this year and we should go a long way."

Of the University of Nebraska, "Kuba" thinks its "great". "It has everything," Jim said recently, "that a college would need."

Golf Officers Named

Paul Gillispie has been elected president of the Pioneers Golf Association for 1956.

Other officers elected were Scotty Harris, vice president and tourney chairman; Joe Gifford Sr., clubhouse and greens committee chairman; Max Pennington, publicity chairman; and L. S. Crain, secretary.

1955 Deer Take High

Deer hunters achieved 84 per cent success during the eight-day season which ended Tuesday in eight western Nebraska counties, a State Game Commission spokesman disclosed Thursday.

A compilation completed Thursday showed 3,631 deer taken, as compared with 4,319 permits issued.

The take was considered high in view of a snowstorm Friday and Saturday and resulting blocked roads which are believed to have kept some hunters who had planned weekend outings from getting into the field at all, according to the commissions's Information Director Wallace Green.

Some hunters reportedly made advance lodging reservations in the hunting area but were unable to use them because of weather.

Green said reports indicated none of the hunters "had to work too hard."

"They still appear to have a lot of deer out there, despite the high number of permits that were issued," he said.

Counties open to the hunters were Banner, Garden, Morrill, Scotts Bluff, Box Butte, Dawes, Sheridan and Sioux. Deer of either sex could be taken.

A new deer season opens Friday in areas 3 and 4. Area 3 takes in Brown, Cherry, Hooker, Keya Paha and Rock Counties. Area 4 embraces Boyd, Cedar, Dakota, Dixon, Holt and Knox Counties.

The new season lasts five days and only buck deer can be shot.

Permits were limited to 750 in Area 3, and 500 in Area 4, although more than this number of applications was received.

Officers Elected

The Rainbow Fleet Boat Club of Lincoln recently elected new officers for the coming year.

The officers are: Commodore, Bob Porter; Vice Commodore, Glen Jourdan; Rear Commodore, Duane Ebben; Secretary, Helen Kneedson; Treasurer, Doris Campion; Board of Directors, Leonard Foote, Duane Ebben and Kenny James.

The Rainbow Fleet's annual Christmas party will be held Dec. 10.

Alabama's football team includes nine seniors, 16 juniors and 19 sophomores.

16 Days Added To 1955 Racing Season

Nebraska's race track enthusiasts will be offered a record 126 days of pari-mutuel horse racing next year, 16 more than were scheduled this year.

One new meet has been added, a 21 - day session at South Sioux City, bringing the total of meets to nine.

The schedule, as announced Thursday by Secretary Ralph Boomer of the State Racing Commission:

Grand Island: April 21 through May 16 (except Sundays); 18 days.

Ak-Sar-Ben, Omaha; May 22 through July 7 (except Sundays and Mondays); 35 days.

Madison: July 10 through July 21 (except Sunday and Monday); 10 days.

Columbus: July 24 through Aug. 11 (except Sundays and Mondays); 15 days.

State Fair meet, Lincoln; Aug. 13 through Aug. 29 (except Sundays); 15 days.

Mitchell: Sept. 1 through Sept. 8 (except Sunday); 7 days.

Alliance: Sept. 11 through Sept. 15; 5 days.

South Sioux City: Sept. 20 through Oct. 13 (except Sundays); 21 days.

Only changes in length of the meets from last year were a cutback from 17 to 15 days at the Lincoln meet, and shortening of the Alliance meet from eight days to five days.

At 50...
it's using less than 10% of its power

Buick's 1956 power-packed CENTURY hardtops—the 2-door Riviera, Model 66R (at top), and the 4-door Riviera, Model 63.

It's practically no effort at all for a sprinter to walk.

It's a breeze for a weight-lifter to pick up a child.

And so it is with the 1956 Buicks in cruising—for these are the mightiest powered Buicks yet built.

It's almost a loaf for this beauty to cruise a superhighway at a legal 50 mph. At that point it's using less than 10% of its pedal-to-the-floor power.

And that's just the reason for the record-high power and compression ratio in your big 322-cubic-inch V8 engine. You and your engine can take it easy so much of the time.

You have no qualms about the response at your command. Your power plant has no need to breathe hard—so it saves gas, stays young, lasts longer.

So when you take the wheel of a '56 Buick, you take it easy, and still lead the parade.

And you find you silk through a whole day's driving with the flowing ease of today's new Variable Pitch Dynaflow.*

For not only does this advanced new Dynaflow give you stepped-up gas mileage and brilliant new getaway response at only part throttle. Not only does it permit you to switch the pitch for full-power safety-surge take-off.

It also gives you absolute smoothness in acceleration and deceleration like you get in no other car in the world.

Drop in on us this week for a sampling of the best performance yet—and for a first-hand look at what else goes with the best Buick yet.

New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflow is the only Dynaflow Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.*

Stocks Move Up; Buying Selective

NEW YORK (AP)—Highly selective buying Thursday sent the stock market ahead.

The best of the rise came with strength in individual issues in aircrafts, steels, motors, railroads and chemicals and scattered other stocks.

Plus signs generally were no larger than $3 while losses went to around $1.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up 50 cents at $181.40. That is a dime under the record high the average reached Sept. 23 and again last Monday and Tuesday.

The industrial component of the average was up 70 cents, rails up 60 cents and utilities up 10 cents.

The day's volume was 2,970,000 shares, compared with 2,480,000 shares Wednesday.

Glenn Martin dropped back ⅝ at 33¾ as divers located parts of its SeaMaster jet bomber that exploded in midair Wednesday in a test flight over the mouth of the Potomac River.

The American Stock Exchange was higher on volume of 960,000 shares as against 980,000 Wednesday.
